ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the commencement of this opportunity to thank, and I guess, till the end the name Dr. Anup Sud (Supervisor), Chairperson, Department of Psychology, H.P. University, remains unwavered. Her patience, assistance and supportive temperament have been a true blessing.

This research study is also a product of an assertive support rendered to me by Dr. Rita Bhalla (Supervisor), Chairperson, Department of Yoga, H.P.University. I am much obliged with her honest and gracious support. I respectfully render my sincere gratitude to both my Supervisors for being there in due course of the completion of this thesis.

With due respect I would like to thank all the faculty members of the Psychology Department (H.P.U) who in their own special way have been supportive and encouraging.

I am highly grateful to the Principal of Auckland House School, Shimla (Mrs. Sunita John) and also (Mrs. Renu Ohri). The students were also highly cooperative for which I am grateful to them. I am also thankful to the Principal (Sister Melba) of St. Bedes College, Shimla.

My friend Mrs. Anju Thakur is that imperative person who has been beside me and encouraged me through the enormous situations during the completion of the thesis, for which I am thankful to her. I am also thankful to Manu Sood for his assistance.

The immense support and blessings of my mother (Mrs. Jassi Sethi) and father (Mr. Jagmohan Singh Sethi) are appreciated, and for this I will always be indebted and grateful to them. I would also like to thank my brother Shailender Singh Sethi for his help and support. Two more names from my family to whom my gratitude must be paid are Mrs. Sonia Anand and Mr. Parmeet Singh Anand, who have been always encouraging me to complete the thesis and gave me the zest to do so. Thanks to the Almighty.
