ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Words can not express my deep sense of gratitude to my teacher and Guide Prof. Kashinath Ranveer for permitting me to carry out my research work on Black Theatre under his guidance. Theatre has always been a passion for me. My interest in theatre came to me as a matter of legacy. My father, Prof. T.C. Mahajan, is essentially a man of theatre. He translated Mulatto in Hindi and also directed the play in which I had played Bert.

It was Prof. Kashinath Ranveer and Dr. Ramakant Sangewar who recognised my genuine interest in theatre and advised me to work on the Black Theatre for my thesis. Had not Prof. Ranveer encouraged me at the right moment to work on the Black theatre, this work would not have been possible.

I consider it my privilege to have an opportunity to work under kind and scholarly guidance of Prof. Kashinath Ranveer. His deep insights, enlightened guidance, rich critical supervision and above all his affectionate encouragement throughout the research work made this thesis possible. His Book 'Black Feminist consciousness' has been of a great help in my research work. It was because of him that I could attend and participate in some of the national seminars for which I am beholden to him.

I am grateful to my teacher Prof. A.G. Khan, for his great concern for my welfare in the academic career.
I take this opportunity to put on record my heartfelt gratitude towards my teacher Prof. Ravindra Kimbahune, for his encouragement.

I am also grateful to Dr. Mrs. Mebel Fernandes, Head of the Department of English, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad for her encouragement and moral support during this research.

I am also grateful to my teachers Dr. Satish Deshpande and Prof. Bhimrao Bhosale for their encouragement and support.

I would like to thank Shri S.J. Pathak, Shri B.N. Jadhav, Shri L.L. Fulavare, Shri K.G. Sheijawal, Shri G.R. Wahule for their co-operation while carrying this study.

I am very much grateful to Principal Dr. Ashok Chavan, Sow. Vibhatai Chavan of Vasantrao Naik College, Prin. S.V. Sudame, Pri. P.M. Bhaskar, Dr. R.N. Wankhede for their timely cooperation and encouragement.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not thank Mr. Ashok Dahale for excellent designing of this thesis. His guidance and experience has made this work possible.

I also express my thanks to A.S.R.C. (Hyderabad) and A.R.I.C. (Mumbai) for kind co-operation.
Words can not articulate my feelings for my uncle Dr.R.M.Sangewar and Sow.Meena Drink. Both have stood like a lighthouse throughout my life. Without their support, I could never think of pursuing my research work. I would like to remain indebted to him. Sow Vishakhatai and Shri Narendra Dawande have also been a source of inspiration to me.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my uncle Prof. Suresh Mahajan and Prin.Prabhakar Bagle who have always been a source of inspiration to me. Prof.Suresh Mahajan happens to be my first teacher who taught me the basics of English.

I take this opportunity to express my regards to my in-laws Mrs. and Mr.B.J.Bhondwe, for their moral support.

I also express my thanks to my friends specially Prof.Sandeep Shisode for their moral support.

Blessings of my parents Prof. T.C.Mahajan and Mrs.Shashikala Mahajan have always been a motivating force. I would like to remain indebted to them for their great concern for my welfare and wellbeing in every walk of my life.

Throughout this research work, my wife Dr.Sarvesha and my son Kaushal have been with me every movement. There presence is more than enough.

Kamlesh T. Mahajan