ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

To begin with I thank the Almighty for giving me the strength and wisdom to complete this research work.

I have immense pleasure in expressing my heartfelt gratitude and indebtedness towards my research guide Dr. Shaikh Samad, Principal, Vasantrao Naik Mahavidyalaya, Aurangabad. It is my privilege that I had the opportunity to work under the able guidance of such a perfectionist. Words are inadequate to express the sum total of my gratitude for his most able guidance, keen interest, valuable suggestions and constant encouragement to accomplish the ambition. Without his proper guidance this thesis would not have reached the present state. His resourcefulness and constant inspiration will be the most valuable possession throughout my life.

I thank Dr. Mrs. S. M. Mohal, Librarian and her library staff of Dr. BAMU, Aurangabad. I specially thank Mr. Surnaar for his invaluable help, with his Encyclopedic knowledge, unerring expertise in handling the books and his ever obliging nature. Without his help in locating the required library material I would not have been able to continue my research work as smoothly as I did.

I also thank the Librarian and the library staff of the CIEFL, Hyderabad for their wholehearted co-operation.
I must specially mention and thank that wonderful couple, Shaista Khan and Muqeem Khan, who was always there with a helping hand, a smiling face and an encouraging word.

Here I must make a special mention of my classmate and a good friend Dr. Shanti Kumar Gupta, Dept. of Microbiology, Institute of Science, Aurangabad for his timely help.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Bajaj the Head of the Department of Statistics, Dr. BAMU, Aurangabad for providing very efficient and cordial services of Dr. Syed Jawed and Dr. Archana Takalkar. They helped me in compiling and analyzing all the statistical data contained in my research work.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not offer my sincere thanks to my friend Mrs. Margaret Ramu for doing a very fine job of proof reading despite her ill health.

Also, a special thanks to young and energetic Ateeque Ahmed for very patiently doing all the typing work.

My heart goes out to my daughters Aliya and Mishkaat whenever I think of their courageous stance they adopted and maintained throughout this difficult time. They always missed me but never showed, for the fear that I might be discouraged.

I respect and admire the patience evinced and the moral support provided by my husband Mohammed Ali Shameem Hashmi. He proved to be my source of inspiration and strength.