ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my immense pleasure to acknowledge all those who have made my dream come true and always inspired me to accomplish my goal. I could not have arrived here without the help and support of many individuals, organisations and many, many others. Therefore, I would like to express my gratitude to all of them who have contributed in some way or the other towards this thesis.

At the very outset, I would like to express my sincere gratitude towards my guide Professor Ravindra G. Jaybhaye, Department of Geography, Savitribai Phule Pune University, Pune. I am most indebted to him for his invaluable guidance and help all through the completion of this doctoral research work. His motivation and personal supervision, constant support, direction, timely guidance, encouragement and advice have resulted in this thesis.

I am very much thankful to Dr. V. S. Kale, Professor and Head, Department of Geography, Savitribai Phule Pune University and former heads, Professor B.C. Vaidya and Professor V.S. Datye for encouraging me throughout my research work and allowing me to avail the department facilities.

I express my sincere gratitude towards the principal Dr. Dilip Sheth and vice-principals in all faculties, Sir Parashurambhau College Pune, who extended esteem cooperation without which the present work would not have been completed.

I would have been unmindful of carrying out research or perhaps exploring new horizons and acknowledging the numerous unanswered questions in science, if would not have helped by Prof. Praveen Saptarshi, former head of Department of Environment Science, Savitribai Phule Pune University (SPPU), Pune.

Special thanks are due to Shri. P L N Raju, Head, Geo-Informatics Division, IIRS, Dehradun, Dr. Anjana Vyas, Professor and Acting Dean in the Faculty of Technology, CEPT University, Ahmedabad, Dr. V.
