Acknowledgement

I dedicate my magnanimous thanks, deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to the "TRIBAL POPULATIONS OF SOUTH INDIA" for their wholehearted concern and willingness to provide samples. Inexhaustible would be the words and inexpressible my feelings, if I attempt to say the way they rendered their cooperation and support during the study period. Truly, it is not a farfetched confession that this work would not have been possible without the participation of the tribal populations.

I express my profound sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to my supervisor Dr. M.V. Usha Rani, Professor, Department of Environmental Sciences, Bharathiar University, for her inspiring guidance, constant help, invaluable suggestions, moral support and everending facilitations in completing the study to be a successful one. I would like to register my special thanks for her critical evaluation in designing my work.

I am ever grateful to Prof. A. Ramesh, Department of Genetics, University of Madras, for his kind support and help rendered during the course of my study and invaluable help through providing the laboratory facilities.

I bestow my heartfelt thanks to Prof. Partha P. Majumder, Professor, Anthropology & Human Genetics Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkatta, for his invaluable guidance and support. I also wish to acknowledge him for allowing me to carryout a part of my complete research in his laboratory.

I present and convey my sincere and heartfelt thanks Dr. P. Lakshmanaperumalsamy, Professor& Head, and all other faculties, Department of Environmental Sciences, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore for their help.

I find no bounds to express my heart-felt and emotional thanks to my seniors Dr. H. Vishwanathan, Post Doctoral Scientist, Washington University, The United States and Dr. Deepa Edwin, Post Doctoral Fellow, University of Mississippi, The United States, for bearing with me with exemplary patience, timely help & advice with constructive ideas, enthusiastic support & in depth involvement at work and encouraging me to go ahead with my project, ever since the corner stone for this endeavor has been laid.

I find no words to express my thanks and gratitude to my senior Dr. N. Prabhakaran, Post Doctoral Fellow, University of Chicago, United States for introducing me to the field of Molecular Evolutionary Genetics. I never forget his help because that is the key movement of my research & life carrier.

I extent my sincere thanks to the Department of Biotechnology, Govt. of India, for the award of Research Assistantship and Senior Research Fellowship.

I owe my sincere thanks to my friends Mr. Periyasamy, Ramesh and others for their invaluable help in collecting the samples.

I extent my gratitude to Mr, N. Nanjappan, V. P. Gunasekaran, Mr. Jeeva Bharathi and the members, secretaries, office barrers of the Tamil Nadu Pazhangudi Makkal Sangam and the Indian communist party of India, Bhavani for their help in collecting the blood samples.

I also extent my gratitude to members of the Kuruman Pazhakudi Association, Dharmapuri their help in collecting the blood samples.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my classmate Ms. Kanthi Mathi, and my friends Ms. Vijaya, Ms. Suhashini, Ms. Padma and Mr. Arumugam, Research Scholars, Department of Genetics, University of Madras, for their kind support and help rendered during the course of my study.

I owe my sincere thanks to my friend Nidhan Kumar Biswas, CSIR-JRF, Anthropology and Human Genetics Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkatta, for his invaluable help in statistical analysis and sequencing protocols.
I would like to offer bouquets of special thanks flowers to my colleague Ms. S. P. Prasanna Vadhani for her constant help, encouragement, suggestions and moral support during the course of my study.

I would like to thank my seniors Mrs. Nivethitha Senthil, Mrs. C. P. Saraswathy and my colleagues Ms. K. S. Mangayarkarasi, Ms. Rama for their support & help during my study.

I do not like to mention a formal thanks to my friends, well-wishers and fellow researchers for their acquainted help in the completion of my research successfully, because thanks will not be exchanged among friends.

I dedicate my grateful bouquet of emotional and sentimental thanks to my Beloved Mother, My better half and my heart hold Kid for giving me a long lasting moral support and encouragement during the strained stages, from dusk to dawn of my research career.
We can only understand the essence of things when one knows their origin and development.

- Heracleitos