ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I gratefully and whole heartedly thank Dr. K. Karunakaran, the former Head of the Department of Linguistics, Bharathiar University and the former Vice-Chancellor of Tamil university, Thanjavur, for having given me a chance to undergo my Ph.D. research program in the department.

My profound thanks are due to my guide Dr. C. Shunmugom, professor and Head of the Department of Linguistics, Dean, Faculty of Arts, Bharathiar university for his excellence and remarkable guidance without which the present form of this thesis would not have been completed. I owe my professor a great deal of thanks.

Immense thanks are presented to Dr. C. Siva shanmugam, Dr. V. Thayalan and Dr. C. Sivakumar, the faculty members of the Dept. of Linguistics for their valuable suggestions and encouragement.

Dr. Sam Mohan Lal, Dr. Nataraja pillai and Dr. Gnana Sundaram of the Central Institute of Indian Languages, Mysore, Dr. Paul Gunasekar and Mrs. Nisha and the librarian of Ramesh Mohan Library, Hyderabad have helped me a lot for which I am thankful to them.

I wish to record my sincere thanks to Dr. Chandran, the Headmaster of CSI Boys Higher Secondary School, Erode, for he was a source of inspiration and constant help and encouragement to plan the content and for the submission of the thesis.
I specially thank Dr. MuthuKrishnan, Dr. P. K. Rangasamy and Dr. Janakiraman whose suggestions helped me to complete the thesis. I also thank the headmasters and teachers of various Higher Secondary Schools who helped me during my field work.

My wife Mrs. Roshan Bibi and my sons Engineer B. S. Mohammed Rafi B.E., B.S. Mohamed Rizwan M.C.S.A., M.C.S.E., B.S. Salman parsi, deserve an important place for their encouragement and also for having put up with patience and tolerance in bearing with me the inconvenience caused due to my study in all these years. The unforgettable mischieves done by my beloved three years old grand daughter Mubasshira while preparing the thesis added cheerful enthusiasm in my spirit. My special thanks are due to my dearest daughter Mrs. B.S. Arafa Muneer Ahamed whose help in the preparation of the data was a boon to me in the quick completion of the thesis.

I dedicate this research work to my beloved father P.S.H. Baharudeen, who bereaved me in 1996 at the time of beginning this research, whose blessings and wisdom handed down to me brought me up with the grace of Almighty.
