Acknowledgement

I seek the divine grace of the Lord, My Master, who has been constantly providing inspiration within me to keep my spirits aloft.

I thank my supervisor and guide Dr. C. Sountharapandian Reader in Commerce (Retd), Government Arts College For Men, Udumalpet, Coimbatore, who has been the guiding spirit in motivating me to complete the research study. He has been a silent initiator creating a sense of responsibility within me to complete the project without any hitch. He has indeed been my guide, my philosopher, my teacher and my friend all through my research period.

I am very grateful to the Principal, Prof. K.K. Ponnusamy Government Arts College for Men, Udumalpet, for his spontaneous assistance in creating an infrastructure for my project study. He has always been full of smiles inspite of my repeated disturbances caused to him for getting my papers ready at the right time.

I am indebted to the Head of the Department, Government Arts College for Men, Udumalpet, who has been silently endorsing all my views and efforts.

I submit my thanks from the bottom of my heart, to late Sri. S. Ramachandra (Retd.) JCO, RBI, who had been a strong source of inspiration and motivation in every stage of my research work. I am always grateful to him for his parental care.

I am especially indebted to Dr. Chandrakanthi Govindarajalu, Secretary, PSGR Krishnamal College For Women, Coimbatore, for always providing me an opportunity to persue research studies. She has indeed been like a banyan tree providing shelter to all my endeavour in completing my research project.

The sincere support of my former Principal, Dr. Savithri Natarajan and the present Principal Dr. N. Yesodhadevi, PSGR Krishnamal College for Women Coimbatore, has provided me with the spur, required to complete my on going tasks effectively. I thank them for their support.

My co-association in my department have always succeeded in keeping my morale high while pursuing my Thesis Project. The encouragement given by them freely has led me to this day, in completing the project. I thank them from the bottom of my heart for their understanding and compromises done, within the department.

Sri. R. Ranganathan, Professor Department of Commerce, CBM College, Coimbatore has been like a beacon light, directing me at every stage of my project selection, analysis and interpretation. I express my deep regards and gratitude for his selfless encouragement and guidance.

Dr. K. Manian, Lecturer, Selection grade, Department of Commerce, Government Arts College, Coimbatore, has truly proved to be a friend in need. The enormous assistance and suggestions rendered by him for appropriate interpretation of my analysis in the study is Fathomless. I offer my sincere gratitude for his timely assistance.

I have to thank Sri. P. Lakshmi Narasimhan, Manager, Personnel, Associated Cement Company Ltd., Madukkarai, for providing me with a treasure of information for the conduct of my research study. He has been a walking encyclopedia, contributing materials pertaining to cement industry both within and outside the country. He deserves many credits for his unflinching support.

I am very grateful obliged to Dr. C. Chinnaraj, Director, CMAT, Kovai Kalaimagal College, Naraseepuram for contributing in no small way to the development and refinement of the analysis of the data in the project. His touch has always been the Midas touch in improving the quality of analysis.
My special thanks are due to the Principal, Kovai Kalaimagal College Naraseepuram, who provided detailed comments and suggestions to materially improve the research study.

The inputs of the study would have conveyed no meaning without proper processing and care required for the development of efficient thought process. Sri. D. Maruthachalam, M.Sc., has been of a tremendous assistance in shaping the raw data into a refined flow of information. His Mugil Data System has been instrumental in providing consultancy on statistical analysis and their interpretation for the entire study. He has made important contributions in proofing the project. Typing support has been provided by his friend Sri. R.K. Chandra Mohan, MDCA, Premaa Systems who has at times been even faster than the computer unit. I thank both of them for their day and night support. Miss. S. Priya, Assistant, Mugil Data System deserves my special thanks for her continuous support and service.

The majority of the research matter has been accessed from Prowess Data Base, in Amritha Institute of Management, Ettimadai, Coimbatore. It is my prime duty to thank the College Management and great help Sri. Jothi Prakash, the Librarian for his great help and patient accommodation of all my queries relating to the thesis.

I take the opportunity to thank all the librarians of SIMA, NTC Staff College, University and Coimbatore Stock Exchange and other centers who have been generous in allowing me access to the libraries.

Like the squirrels building a bridge, my students Miss. Deera, Miss. A. Meenakshi, S. Uma, J.Lakshmi, K. Priya and T. Subhashini and my wellwishers have contributed their might in shaping my project into a readable volume. I thank everyone of them for their tireless attention and assistance.
My sister-in-law Ms. M. Savithri has filled my mother’s gap and with the maternal care and love, has borne the entire burden of running the household during my absence from home, on research work. Indeed, no words can express my deep sense of gratitude to her, without whose selfless and silent support this project would not have seen the day light. I pray for her good health and prosperity.

I must acknowledge the continued love and support of my husband, children, siblings and friends. Without their understanding neither the research study, nor its submission, could have been completed.

The acknowledgement made is almost surely incomplete as there have been a number of invisible hands which have been extending motivation, encouragement, support and care for the completion of the project. I thank everyone.
