

VITAE

GOVINDARAJU C was born in Salem, India, in 1978. He received the Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical and Electronics Engineering from Government College of Engineering, Salem, Madras University, India in 1999 and Master of Engineering with distinction in Power Electronics and Drives from College of Engineering, Guindy, Anna University, Chennai, India in 2002.

He is an Assistant Professor in the department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Government College of Engineering, Salem, India. He is a member of IEEE and Indian Society for Technical Education (ISTE).

His research interests include energy efficient modulation methods, multilevel inverters, power converters for renewable energy sources, and power quality.