ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my profound gratitude and indebtedness to my able guide Dr. N. Jaganathan, Reader, Post-Graduate and Research Department of Economics, CBM College, Coimbatore. I record here my deep sense of gratitude to him for his gracious supervision. His imprint is indelible right from choosing the topic till it blossomed into a compact thesis. I have been richly rewarded by his alacrity of mind, scholarly advice, penetrating analysis and sustained interest shown in the process of shaping this thesis. Words are insufficient substitutes to convey my thanks to him.

I am thankful to Prof. R. Thangavel, Principal, CBM College for the help rendered by him during the course of the study. I wish to record my thanks to Dr. C. Annadurai, Head, Department of Economics, CBM College, Coimbatore and other Staff members. I thank with all sincerity, the Department of Economics, CBM College for admitting me as a part-time research scholar. My sincere thanks to Dr. G. Gopal, Principal, Government Arts College, Coimbatore for his constant prodding to complete this endeavour.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. S. Varadarajan, Principal, Coimbatore Institute of Management and Technology and former Director of the Centre for Agricultural Rural Development Studies (CARDS), Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, who graciously went through the final draft and offered incisive and valuable comments.

It is an occasion for me to thank my friend Dr. K. Dhanasekaran, Reader, Department of Economics, Gobi Arts and Science College, Gobichettipalayam from whom I benefited immensely in the construction of quality life index and who was generous in sharing with me materials available with him.

I thank Dr. T. Ilangovan, Reader in History, Government Arts College, Coimbatore, who took pains to introduce me to the Kurumba tribals and helped me in the data collection. I will be failing in my duty if I do not recollect and ruminate over the spontaneous help rendered by Prof. M. Karuna Moorthi, Department of English, Government Arts College, Coimbatore. I am also indebted to Mrs. J. Vasanthi, who helped me to complete research work.
My heartfelt thanks are due to Prof. S. Victor Albert, Former Head, Department of Economics, Government Arts College, Coimbatore for his constant encouragement during the course of study. I also express my thanks to Prof. R.K. Ramasamy, Head, Department of Economics, Government Arts College, Coimbatore for his kind co-operation during the course of study.

I also wish to thank Mr. T. Nagarajan for his help rendered during the data collection and processing the data during the difficult phase of my research work. I wish to acknowledge the services of Miss. Janaki, for her secretarial assistance in many ways.

Thanks are also due to the Librarians of CBM College, Coimbatore, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore, Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai, Annamalai University, Annamalainagar, University of Mumbai, Mumbai, National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, Tribal Research Centre, Ooty and Government Arts College, Coimbatore.

Acknowledgement is due to the Secretary, Adi Dravida Welfare Department, Chennai, Assistant Director of Agriculture Department and Village Administrative Officers of sample villages who readily responded to my request.

I record my feeling of indebtedness to my parents, in laws, brothers-in-law and sisters for their consistent encouragement. I also put on record my feelings of appreciation for Mrs. M. Sujatha, my wife, for the co-operation extended throughout the course of study. I wish to thank my son Master. M.P. Janeshwaran, who endured all hardships wearing a pretty smile on his face and allowed me to pursue my research work.

I wish to record my sincere thanks to Mr. C. Kamala Kannan, Proprietor and Staff members, especially Miss. M. Vennila, of Sree Kumaran Computers, Coimbatore for the neat and excellent execution of the work within a short span of time.

Above all, I am greatly indebted to the Almighty whose grace gave me strength at every stage of this endeavour.

Signature