I was working on the Lokayukta office, that is situated in Mumbai. Obviously, it required me to visit the office various times. After all, I thought that it is a government office. Even though it is not as another government offices, whether the officials would be co-operative with me or not was my doubt. And surprisingly, right from my first visit to the office, the functionaries made me frank with them and so kindly interested with my research work. I am very thankful to the functionaries in Maharashtra Lokayukta and Upa-Lokayukta office.
