Acknowledgements

It is my distinct honour and privilege to have work under the grand supervision of Professor Bandi Kamaiah who took personal care and guided me from the first stage of thesis to the last. He not only provided academic Supervision, but also everything from a pencil to laptop, food to shelter and kept me out of all my financial difficulties. I feel short of words to express my profound sense of sincere gratitude to the affectionate teacher.

I express my thanks to Professor J. V. M Sarma, Head, Department of Economics, Professor G. Nanchariah, Dean, School of Social Sciences, Doctoral committee members, Dr. Phanidra Goyari and Dr. B Nagarjun for their constant support, invaluable suggestions and encouragement.

I have pleasure to record with great reverence that Professor B N Nimbur, Professor B. Satynarayan, and Professor M. Upender are source of inspiration and encouraged me to study in Centres of Higher Learning like University of Hyderabad. Without their constant encouragement and support, the thesis would not have seen light of the day.

I take this opportunity to remember late Professor Mallappa Amravati who was a source of inspiration and always taken keen interest in completion of my work. I am thankful to my teachers, Professor M. S. Kallur, Dr. Dashrath Naik and Ms Sugandha, who always supported in my academic pursuits. I had opportunities to draw freely on the expertise of late Professor S. Amanulla in my study. I have been amply benefitted from the association of Dr. Debasish Acharya and Dr. Allen Roy, and friend Anver Sadat and Sai Sailaja.

I thank all research colleagues and friends including Gurjala Ravi, Saktive, Rajesh Acharya, Suresh Naik, Rani Ratna Prabha, Hussain, P.N. Rajesh, Zikrulla Khan, Swayam Prava Misra, Wasim Sri Hari, and Zulkar for their support and cheerful company. Thanks to go Venkateshwar Rao, Natarajan and Shankar of the department for logistic support.

I appreciate very much the help at crucial junctures from Surender Komera, Santosh Dhani, Venktappa Nayak and Balaji. I would like to record my indebtedness to Ambaraya Hargari, Malappa Dandagund, Dastigir Pash, S. N. Patil Margutti, Md. Younus, Manik, Nagesh More, Santosh Madki and Vasu for taking interest in the completion of my work.

My „avva” like madam, Dr. Pushpa Bandi, whose very existence is a gift of life, showered her unconditional love and affection on me. I feel short of words to express my sincere thanks to her for personal care and collegial support. Thanks also to Ms Mani for her best wishes.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge continued source of inspiration and support of my father Sharayavanaya Swamy and mother Shakuntala, sisters Channamma and Nagaveni, and Vinayak Hiremath without which it would not have been possible to do Ph.D.

Gourishankar S. Hiremath