ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Research is a wonderful experience which involves consistent hard work; it is very arduous task and no venture can be completed without the blessings of the Almighty. I consider it my earnest duty to bow to Almighty whose kind blessings always inspire me to walk on the right path of life.

I would acknowledge with utmost sincerity and reverence the invaluable guidance and direction of my guide Prof. (Dr.) Preeti Mahajan, without whom my scholastic voyage would have remained only an unrealized dream. It was her constant inspiration which encouraged me to penetrate into newer vistas of research accomplishing the stupendous task of preparation of the text of my dissertation.

I express my sincere thanks to Chairperson, Department of Library & Information Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing me necessary facilities for completion of this study.

Thanks are also due to all the librarians and staff members of various libraries for providing essential information for the present study.

I acknowledge the work of all academic thinkers and researchers who have been quoted in this study.

Last but not the least, I take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation for my family members and friends for their patience, moral support and active cooperation.
