ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Praise be to Almighty God, who made me able to carry out the present study successfully.

It is a futile attempt in search of adjectives to express my deep and sincere sense of gratitude and indebtedness for my esteemed teacher Professor Sarla Hooda, Department of Anaesthesia, Pt. B.D. Sharma PGIMS, Rohtak. Her initiative and interest have taught me a sense of professional duty and pride. Her painstaking supervision, affectionate guidance and constant encouragement has inspired me for successful completion of this work. It is indeed my distinct fortune to have opportunity of working under such a delightful, vivacious and pleasant personality.

Mere words are not adequate to express my heartiest indebtedness to Dr. B. Chhabra, Professor and Head, Department of Anaesthesia, Pt. B.D. Sharma PGIMS, Rohtak for giving me timely suggestions, unfailing attention and ever available guidance. Had it not been for his unique moral support this work would have been a mere dream.

I offer my sincere and deepest thanks from the core of my heart to respected Dr. Savita Saini, Dr. Shashi Kiran, Dr. Premila Malik, Dr. Susheela Takshak, Dr. Ruchi Gupta, Dr. Jagdish Dureja and Dr. Anil Thakur for their valuable suggestions, generous help and constant encouragement which inspired me a lot to dedicate my efforts fruitfully and in right direction.

I convey my most respectful and heartiest thanks to Dr. Manoj Bhardwaj for all his great helps and able assistance when I needed them most.
I extend my warm felicitations to my friends and colleagues for their best cooperation and companionship which made my work all the more encouraging and pleasant.

With deep reverence and profound gratitude, I owe a heavy debt to my parents for valuable guidance and moral support. I am grateful for their cooperation, understanding, blessings and encouragement.

I avail this opportunity to thank my friend Sanjay and Virender for their help, encouragement and moral support in all stages of this uphill task. They boost me whenever my confidence plummeted. They have done a lot for me though I have not done much for them.

At this juncture, I cannot find words of appreciation for the full hearted unique moral support of my wife Shivani. Had it not been her persistent encouragement and understanding this work would have been a mere dream.

I am thankful to Dr. Ashok, Deptt. of Statistics and Mrs. Anita Garg, Incharge, Computer Centre, M.D. University, Rohtak for their help in statistical analysis of the data.

I would like to thank M/s. Gandhi Computers, Rohtak who deserve all the credit for the painstaking typing and presentation of this manuscript in the present form.

In the last, but not the least, the debt I owe to my patients is supreme and can never be paid in full. May God bless them with health and happiness always.
