ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe in many ways to many people and institutions for carrying out this project. It is impossible to give a nuanced account or an exhaustive list of my debt. However, not mentioning the most obvious ones would be unjust and ungrateful.

First of all I cannot forget the inspiration (or, aspiration?) of my late lamented parents (Dr. Kunja Bihari Das and Premalata Das) whom I failed to satisfy as I could not complete this project within their lifetime.

The help, guidance and encouragement of my supervisor, Dr. J.N. Patnaik and gentle prodding of Geeta Apa (Mrs. J.N. Patnaik) can hardly be described in words. This project is a by-product of their determination and insistence.

I must mention here that this endeavour could not have been successful without the technical help from Dr. Girish Chandra Mishra, a specialist in language technology.

My indebtedness to the Library of Ravenshaw College (now a University), Utkal University, former ASRC Library, Hyderabad and the Library of Toronto and McMaster University of Canada deserves to be mentioned with gratitude.

Finally, this acknowledgement will be incomplete without a reference to the overall care and help of my wife Dr. Shruti Das and the emotional pressure for completing this project from my son Mr. Sahasranshu Dash.
