ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to render my deepest gratitude to God, for His sustaining power and love. I am forever indebted to Him for having blessed me with adequate health and strength during the course of my research.

This thesis has been written under the constant guidance and supervision of Dr. Margaret L. Pachuau. I am indebted to her for the sincere guidance, support and patience which she has rendered throughout the supervision. My earnest and heartfelt thanks are extended to her.

I would also like to express my gratitude to the Department of English, Mizoram University for giving me the opportunity to pursue research in my area of interest.

I would like to especially thank my mother, Mrs. C. Kamlova, as well as my brother and sisters and all my family members. I would also like to render inherent gratitude to my friends who have been invaluable helping hands to me during the research, for which I am inordinately grateful.

During the course of the research I was awarded the Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship. I am truly grateful for the generous grant. It has enabled me to travel to various libraries and centres of research including: British Council, Kolkata; American Center, Kolkata; Berhampur University Library, Berhampur; British Library, Hyderabad; Osmania University, Hyderabad; Indira Gandhi Memorial (I.G.M) Library, Hyderabad Central University (HCU); Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), Delhi; Central Library Complex, Delhi University and Centre For Contemporary Theory, Baroda. I have sourced immense academic matter from them, and these have enriched the thesis in myriad dimensions.
