ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I feel ecstatically delighted in expressing my sincere thanks, and personal regards to Dr. Maneet Kumar Mahajan, Professor, Department of Commerce, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla, for his benevolent guidance, innovative ideas, constant encouragement and critical suggestions which went a long way in proving me the necessary insight into the problems and directed the course of the study. His encouragement and blessing have opened the path for future research.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. Vijay Kumar, Chairman, Department of Commerce, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla, and other members of Commerce Department for their scholarly guidance and encouragement.

A lot of individual have contributed in the preparation of this research work. I am thankful to all of them for their timely help, encouragement, support, valuable comments, suggestions and many innovative ideas in carrying out this Project. It is my proud privilege and pleasure to express deep sense of gratitude to these people.

I wish to place the instance of gratitude and reverence to my other teachers of Department of Commerce, H.P University, Shimla, under their inspiring, valuable and readily accessible guidance, I had the pride and privilege of taking up and successful completion of this project. I feel deeply indebted to all of them not only for sparing their precious time enthusiastically but also for healthy discussion and valuable suggestions.

I feel it all the more necessary to mention and record my cordial thanks to the staff of the libraries of ICSSR, New Delhi, Delhi School of Economics, H.P University library, Shimla for their full co-operation in collecting data, literature and other factual information.

No job or task can be completed without the cooperation and support of people around us. I being no exception had to seek the help of others to make this study successful.
I take this opportunity to express my thankfulness to all those who helped me, directly or indirectly, in the completion of this research work. Those who have provided help and assistance in one way or the other in the successful execution of the research project is too many to be individually acknowledged. Among them, the respondents deserve my sincerest gratitude for having gone to the enormous trouble of filling up the questionnaire and imparting a variety of information leading to the generation of required input for analysis.

In this endeavor, I received tremendous help from various quarters and I am extremely grateful to all friends and colleagues who extended their helping hand willingly. I would like to acknowledge with deep of my heart the appreciation and the devotional excellence shown in my favour by my friends.

I feel greatly beholden to my parents (Late) Shri Verinder pal dogra and Smt. Pornima dogra, Parents-in-law Sh. Anmol Rattan and Smt. Kanta devi and my wife Smt. Anu dogra and other family members, who helped me keeping in fine mettle, in times of great stress and striven.

I can't express my gratitude to my kids: Rahul and Rohan, who exhibited innocent patience-bearing with my silence and absence, during the course of my involvement in this project, what more can a Father expect!

And no words of thanks can express my gratitude and reverence to Maa Bhagwati and Parampita (Almighty) for profuse blessings, to complete this project. Pride, praise and perfection belong to ALMIGHTY alone. So, I would like to offer heartful salutation at the LOTUS feet of the Supreme Being for the physical and mental strength, bestowed upon me and in whose faith I was able to complete this work.
