ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The investigator wishes to place on record his deep gratitude to all those who have helped him in the successful completion of this study.

Words fail to express the investigator’s profound indebtedness to his supervisor and guide Dr. K. A. Kumar, Director, School of Behavioural Sciences, M.G.University, Kottayam, Kerala, India, for his keen support, exemplary guidance, and constructive evaluation to shape up this piece of work as a worthy contribution in this field.

The investigator is also indebted to his co-guide, Dr. Elsheba Mathew, Lecturer, School of Behavioural Sciences, M. G. University, Kottayam, Kerala, India, for her untiring support, thought provoking insights and stimulative interactions throughout the research work.

The investigator acknowledges with gratitude the valuable suggestions rendered by the following persons at different stages of this work. Dr. George Mathew, Professor, Department of Psychology, Kariavattom, Thiruvananthapuram. Dr. P. V. Ramamurti, Professor, Department of Psychology, Venkateswara University, Tirupati; Dr. D. Jamuna, Department of Psychology, Venkateswara University, Tirupati; and Rev. Dr. Abraham Kuruvilla, Director. T.M.A. Counselling Center, Amalagiri, Kottayam, Kerala.

The investigator is thankful to Dr. George Mathew and Dr. K.A Subramanian for giving permission to use their tools (Adjustment Inventory and Mathew Materialism – Spiritualism Scale) for the effective completion of the study.

Immense thanks are due to Prof. Ramakrishna Pillai, (Formerly Professor, Department of statistics, St: Thomas College, Palai, Kerala) for his timely help and ingenious suggestions for the statistical analysis of the data.
Sincere thanks are also due to Dr. John Johnson, Lecturer, Department of Psychiatry and Social Work, NIMHANS, Bangalore, for his untiring effort and co-operation in doing the computer analysis.

It is fitting to add a word of thanks to the librarians and office staff of the School of Behavioral Sciences, M.G. University, Kottayam; Department of Psychology, Kariavattom, Thiruvanthapuram; Center for Development Studies, Thiruvanthapuram, Calicut University; NIMHANS, Bangalore; and Venkateswara University, Tirupati; for providing the necessary facilities for collection of literature.

Thanks are also due to my friends in the U.S.A, particularly Rev. Prakash. K. George and Dr. P.K. Alexander, for sending the necessary materials related to this work.

Special Thanks are due to Prof. Y. Oommen, Selection Grade Lecturer, English Department, Christian College, Chenganoor for editing and proof reading of the manuscript.

Sincere thanks are also due to M/s Nanosoft, Karthikapally for word processing and to M/s Copy White, Ettumanoor, for photocopying of this thesis on time.

Personal debt are the most difficult to express in formal terms. Yet the investigator wishes to thank all his family members, particularly the beloved and the elderly parents for their support and prayer throughout this endeavor.

No word of thanks would suffice to acknowledge the sincere co-operation of the respected elderly subjects of this study. Their feelings and faces still remain fresh in the researcher's mind.
