ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The path from dreams to success does exist, may you have the vision to find it, the courage to get on to it.

A journey is easier when you travel together. Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. This thesis is the result of three years of work whereby I have been accompanied and supported by many people. It is a pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my gratitude for all of them. This thesis would not appear in its present form without the kind assistance and support of the following individuals and organizations.

I thank the almighty for showering infinite bounties and grace upon me and for being my constant companion.

I am thankful to our Vice-Chancellor Dr. S. S. Kadam and Principal Dr. K. R. Mahadik for providing proper resources and infrastructure to carry out the work of this stature.

I would like to thank my Guide Dr. S. L. Bodhankar, the best advisor and guide I could have wished for. During these years I have known him as a sympathetic and principle-centered person. Their enthusiasm and integral view on research and mission for providing 'only high-quality work and not less', has made a deep impression on me. I owe him lots of gratitude for having me shown this way of research. He taught me to look for solutions to problems rather than focus on the problem. I learned to believe in my future, my work and myself only because of him.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. S. R. Rojatkar, Director, R & D centre for Pharmaceutical Sciences and Applied chemistry, Pune for extended support, encouragement and fruitful discussion during execution of this work. It is my pleasant duty to thank, extending a helping hand and supporting me throughout my research work. A special thanks to Dr. P. R. Rajamohan, Head NMR
