

31. Jaya J Aitly., "There is nothing to beat the Handlooms, if it has the right excess", Labour File, Vol.2, No.9, and September 1996.

47. Note submitted by Handlooms and textile ministry to the State Government on 702-2001.

77. Vijaya Ramaswamy, “The Genesis and Historical Role of the master weavers in south India Textiles Production”, Journal of Economic & Social History, Vol. XXVIII.

78. Yanagiswa, Haruka, “The Handloom industry and its market structure; The case of the Madras presidency in the first half of the twentieth century", The Indian Economic and Historical Review, sage publications, New Delhi, 1993.

89. "Handloom weavers and technological change in Western India, 1880 – 1947", in Stein and Subrahmanyam (Ed) Institutions and Economic Change in South Asia, Oxford University Press, Delhi.

Project on 'Linking the WTO to the Poverty-Reduction Agenda'

116. Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry; (2004); Study On ‘Ending of Multi Fibre Agreement and the Indian Textile Industry’

B. Articles/Reports

➢ Abdul Noorbasha, Prof., "Handloom in Distress", Economic and Political Weekly, 31 (23) 8 June, 1996.

