ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My deep sense of acknowledgements are due to many persons without whose co-operation, support, encouragement and guidance, this report would not have been brought out.

I am greatly indebted to my beloved teacher, guide, philosopher and research supervisor Dr. AbdulNoor Basha, Professor and Chairman, Board of Studies Department Of Commerce, Former Coordinator for UG Examinations and Special Officer for A.N.U.P.G. Centre, Ongole, for his heart touching encouragement and help to my research activity. He took a great part as a research supervisor by offering me valuable suggestions from the problem selection stage to the analysis and findings stage.

I am deeply owed to our SACET management Sri Vanama Ramakrishna Rao, Secretary Sri S. Lakshmanarao, Correspondent Principal Dr. C. Subbarao and our Administrative officer Sri R.V.Ramanamurthy and Principal St. Ann’s College of P.G studies Dr.G. SambasivaRao for their affectionate help and support in performing my research activities.

I would be grateful to my friends S. Chand Basha Head, Department of MBA SAEC, Dr. S. Chandra Sekhar, Associate Professor and all of my Department teaching and non-teaching staff for their affectionate help and support in performing my research activities.

I am greatly thankful to Dr. V. Tulasi Das, Assistant Professor AcharyaNagarjuna University who showed keen interest and his valuable suggestions to bring out this research report.

I am grateful to Dr. D. Narasimha Reddy, Chief Project Co-ordinator and Sri Puligujju Suresh, Project Co-ordinator, Sivaranjini and team members of Centre for Handloom Information and Policy Advocacy (CHIP), Chirala for providing necessary information and valuable support.

I am very much thankful to all the management of various primary handloom cooperative societies of Prakasam District, officials of Office of Handlooms, Hyderabad, and Ongole for their co-operation in collecting necessary information for completion of this report.

I wish to place on record my gratitude to the heads of all the sample handloom weavers’ households of Prakasam District (the study area), who have given us reliable information without giving any trouble.

My gratitude is extending to my beloved parents, my wife Dr. Santhi Vyshnavi, Medical Officer and family members for their blessings and cooperation.

I would like to express my heartful thanks to Mr. PLV. Prasad for attending the type and graphical work with patience.
