ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me an immense pleasure and a sense of gratitude to acknowledge my indebtedness to my teacher and research supervisor, Dr. Naresh Kumar, Reader, Law Department, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak. It is due to the valuable guidance and sparing of time for me despite his other engagement of the academic nature that I am able to complete this research work. His sympathetic attitude, scholarly guidance and keen interest in the research work has inspired me at every stage of my efforts in the completion of this thesis in time. In addition to effective supervision, he had made valuable suggestions from time to time to make the present study more useful and realistic.

I am highly thankful to my learned and respected teacher Prof. C.P. Sheoran Head Department of Law, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak, who afforded me an opportunity to conduct research work on this topic of great significance. His continuous encouragement besides the valuable advice on the complex issues has enabled me to complete this study well in time.

My thanks are due to Prof. KPS Mahalwar and other distinguished members of the Faculty of law, M.D. University, Rohtak for their sympathetic attitude and co-operation. In addition, I am highly indebted to officers and officials of the Law Department, M.D. University, Rohtak for their love and encouragement.

I am grateful to Sh. Bhag Singh Librarian of Indian Law Institute Library for his kind co-operation and assistance in completing my present study. Further, I am also thankful to officials and officers of American Library, British Library, IIPA Library, Delhi High Court Library, Supreme Court Library and Indian Council of World Affairs Library (Supra House) for helping me in finding out the relevant material for completing my present study.

I am also extremely thankful to various distinguished authors whose writings have been consulted by me in this work. My thanks are also due to the staff of the law Library, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak, especially Sh.
Chaman Lal Mittal, Sh. Balwan Singh, Inder Prakash, Hem Lata and Raj Kumari for making me available the standard books, periodicals, journals and other materials for reference to complete this study. I am also thankful to my family members who provided me full co-operation and encouragement to complete my research work.

My most cordial thanks are due to Shri Satbir Singh Duran and Shri Jai Prakash for typing this work in short time and with meticulous care.
