ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The greatest succour and inspiration I received during the course of this tremendous enterprise was from my gracious Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. My heart wells with deep gratitude and praise for His overflowing grace and wisdom that surrounded and helped me in every step of the research. It was His compassion for the downtrodden which urged me to take up the issues of widows and seek solutions for many problems faced by them. Praise His Holy Name!

As a person involved in NCC and Social Service, my first-hand experience of the plight of widows living in my taluk had always engaged my attention. My desire to understand and help them as much as possible gave the fillip for my decision to take up the socio-economic status of the Hindu Naidu Widows as the theme of the present research.

Widows are hesitant to tell their problems for fear of criticism from in-laws and society. But they were kind enough to share their problems with a woman like me. All these drew my attention to the study of the socio and economic status of widows and the impediments they face.

I feel greatly indebted to Rev. Dr. S. Thanias, SDB, M.A., Ph.D., Principal, Sacred Heart College, Tirupattur for initiating me into the research venture.

I wish to record my gratitude to the University Grants Commission for the Research Scholarship it granted to me to take up the Ph.D. Degree course and also the Government of Tamil Nadu for permitting me to undergo the course under the Faculty Improvement Programme for two years (1999-2001).

My thanks are due to the Vice-Chancellor and the Registrar of the Madras University, The Director of Collegiate Education and the Principal of Sacred Heart College for allowing me to pursue my Ph.D. work.
I am extremely thankful to my supervisor and guide Dr. K. Padmanabhan, M.A., B.L., Ph.D., Reader and Supervisor, Post Graduate Department of Economics and Research, Sacred Heart College, Tirupattur, for enabling me to choose this topic. Dr. K. Padmanabhan is my guide in the truest sense of the word, for it was, he, like a real guru initiated me into research endeavour and helped me sustain my interest. He is a motivator par excellence, a dedicated guide and above all, a man innately good and of whose springs of wisdom and kindness, I have been a constant beneficiary. He gave his time and energy unstintingly to the supervision of my work and meticulously revised and edited the (Preliminary) draft. I express my indebtedness and reverence towards my guide, mentor and Philosopher.

I am thankful to the former Principal of Arignar Anna Government Arts College for Women Dr. Premula Newsam and the present Principal Dr. Parvathi Rajagopalan for their genuine consideration, understanding and encouragement.

My heartfelt thanks are due to Dr. D.P. Apte, President, Professor Yamato Kawakami Foundation, Pune-411 007 who helped me to frame the proper Perspective and give a definite focus to the research work.

I have no words to express my gratitude to Dr. Thangamani, Head of the Department of Economics, and Dr. Padmavathi, Reader, Department of Economics, Kuthavai Naachiaar Government Arts College for Women, Thanjavur, who helped me with sisterly affection. I am extremely thankful to them for their noteworthy contributions at various stages of my research work and the frequent words of encouragement which sustained me in my moments of despair.
