Acknowledgements

I am very grateful to all those who have helped me in various ways to complete this study. I wish to convey my special thanks to the following:

Professor R.N. Ghosh, my supervisor, for his valuable advice, his patience and understanding at every stage of this study.

Rama, for her willingness to help at all times, her useful suggestions, her constant support and encouragement.

Mr. Jacob Tharu and Mr. V. Sasikumar for their helpful comments.

Mr. L.S. Ramaiah and his staff in the Institute library for all their help.

Mr. C.K. Vijaya for providing technical assistance in recording and transcribing classroom data.

The teachers and pupils of the schools where classes were observed for this study, especially, Springdales School, Bal Bharati School, Salwan School and Mother's International School - all in New Delhi.

Mr. V. Sankara Rao for his expert typing. Surabhi and Meenakshi for help with proof-reading.

And Sunil, who acted as co-observer during the main study, meticulously checked the entire coded data, and helped in hundreds of other ways.
