ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This Thesis is the result of five years of my research work whereby I have been accompanied and supported by many people. It is certainly a pleasant aspect that now I have an opportunity to express my gratitude towards all of them.

Firstly, I owe my deepest and profound gratitude to my supervising guide and teacher Dr. J. Rajan, Professor and Head, Institute of Management in Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram. Without his valuable guidance and constant support and efforts it would not have been possible for me to continue and complete my research work. He is the first and foremost person to identify my capabilities and instilled confidence in me to carry out this research work. His expertise in the research field was so beneficial to me so that I could frame the pattern of my research work with his valuable suggestions and instructions.

Let me express my sincere gratitude from the bottom of my heart to Prof. M. Somasekharan Pillai, Department of Statistics, University College, Trivandrum for his valuable assistance in statistical analysis of the data and the pieces of advice for the interpretation.

My sincere gratitude to Sri P.B. Sajan, Architect, Costford, for his valuable support and for enriching me with his valuable suggestions throughout the work. He is such a knowledgeable and dedicated person with immense academic, professional and social commitment who was very helpful and supportive throughout my research work.
I cannot forget contribution of the members of Researchers Forum of the Institute of Management in Kerala which met regularly and shared the views and experiences of the research work of each and every person and that helped me to formulate the way and direction of my research work.

I am deeply indebted to all the respondents who took time and answered the questions patiently. I would like to thank specially Sri Ajai Cherian Mathew, Coordinator of Costford who found enough time to share his knowledge with me. I would be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the work of various authors on the subject and other related studies that enriched my understanding of the subject.

I take this opportunity to express my deep affection and gratitude to my parents Sri G. Sukumaran Nair and Smt. P. Chandrika Devi who have been constant motivators to me since from my childhood.

I owe a lot to my wife Smt. Anupama PG who worked tirelessly to provide me the best comfort and took care of each and everything so that I could concentrate on my work. I am indebted to my son Manudev A Nath and my daughter Devapriya A Nath for loving me unconditionally and understanding my devotion to this research work.

Sincere Thanks to my office staffs, superiors, friends, and colleagues in my Department for the assistance rendered to me and for the encouragement.

Though last but not the least, I bow my head with respect, love and gratitude to the GOD, the Almighty who keeps me going.
