ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am extremely indebted to various persons and institutions from whom I have received immense inspiration and help in preparing this thesis.

I have been guided by my esteemed Research Guide Dr Jayasheela, Reader, Department of Post-graduate Studies and Research in Economics, Mangalore University, who nurtured my interest in the subject and gave me the benefit of his guidance and wisdom by giving constructive suggestions and sharing ideas throughout my research work. I have profited greatly from both, and his close reading of the literary texts chosen here has been an enlightening and exhilarating exercise. It is an opportunity of a lifetime to work with him. I am also grateful to Mrs. Manjula Jayasheela and Master Vishal for the warmth of their hospitality and goodwill. In more ways than can be expressed in a prefatorial note, I am indebted to them.

I sincerely thank Prof K V Kodandaramaya, Director, Department of Collegiate Education, Bangalore for his cordial wishes and help. I also thank Joint Director, Dr. W Linda Christy, farmer Deputy Director Prof Imbrahim Byari and other staff members of the Department of Collegiate Education, Mangalore for their support to do this research. I also wish to thank the authorities of the University Grant Commission and College Development Council for sanction of Faculty Improvement Programme (FIP) facility to carry out this work on full time basis.

I am grateful to my Management - 'Women's National Education Society' particularly to the President Sri Kudupi Jagdeesh Shenoy, Vice President Sri Manel Annappa Nayak, Secretary Prof P P Gomathi, Correspondent Sri Nagar Narayan Shenoy and other Members of the Management for giving permission to pursue my research work. I deeply remember the present Principal Prof Sulochana D. Rao and farmer Principal.
Prof P Krishnananda Shenoy of Besant First Grade Evening College for their kind cooperation and appreciation of my work. I wish to express my appreciation to all the teaching and non-teaching staff and students of both Besant First Grade Evening College and Besant Pre-University Evening College for their mutual aid and encouragement. My thanks are owed to all the Heads of our institution for their moral support.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to present Chairman Prof G V Joshi, and former Chairman Prof Vishwanath, Department of Post-graduate Studies and Research in Economics, Mangalore University and to all the members of the faculty and other research scholars in the Department for their spontaneous support and constructive suggestions.

My thanks are due to the many erudite teachers of economics of the Karnataka College and Karnataka University Dharwad who took interest in my work, Prof L D Vaikunthe, Prof Mundinamane, Dr N D Chachadi, and others. I cannot forget the pillars of my interest in studies especially teachers of Primary School of Bisaharahalli (Tq Koppal), teachers of High School Hiresindogi (Tq Koppal), and lecturers of Government First Grade College, Nargund, (Dist Gadag). I deeply remember some of the special teachers Prof S B Kustagi, retired lecturer in Economics, Prof S P Bammanpad lecturer in Commerce, Mr Nidvani lecturer in Education who helped in learning process. The teacher who helped to change my life is Mr S J Quadri, retired teacher in English and his wife are worth mentioned in this while.

I must acknowledge the concern evinced mainly Dr B S Sayjan, Professor and Head of the Community Medicine, Kasturba Medical College, Mangalore, Prof Rajshekar Patil, Head, Department of Applied Zoology, Mangalore University, Dr Talwar Sabanna, Reader, Department of Economics, Karnataka University, Belgaum Campus, Dr P M Honakeri, Dr

I cannot forget Prof Carola Wilheimina Maria Naastepad, Prof Servaas Storm of Erasmus University Rotterdam and Herpreeth Singh of Punjab for sending their valuable books which helped me a lot in review of literature on the subject. I must thank Mr M D Athole, Faculty, Department of Economics, University of Goa, and Prof V B Hans, Head, Department of Economics, St Aloysius Evening College Mangalore, Mr Sudhakar H Research Assistant, for useful discussions I had with them and for being supportive of my work.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge my deep debt of gratitude to the staffs of NABARD offices of Bangalore and Belgaum, Manager of Lead Bank Belgaum, staffs of Karnataka Grameena Vikas Bank, District Co-operative Credit Bank and other Nationalised Bank in my study area for their valuable information to accomplish this monument. Some of worth mentioning staff of various bank officers are Mr M J Muddebihal, KVGB of Bellary branch, Mr Kishore Soudagar of Union Bank of India, Athani branch, Mr Tabachi of DCCB branch Chikkodi, Mr A K Kulkarni, Lead Bank Belgaum, etc.

The staff of the various libraries I visited was very cooperative. I must particularly mention the Librarian and Staff of our own College and University, Institute for Social and Economic Change Bangalore, Aligarh Muslim University, Bangalore University, Agriculture University of Bangalore and Dharwad, etc.

It is my responsibility to remember pleasant peasants who cooperated in collection of primary data and other information during my field survey, such as Mr Gurupadappa, Mr Yellappa Sabale, Mr Shivappa Bolshetti, Mr Mohan H, Mr D M Tattimani, Mr A J Jakati, Mr R N Yeligar and others.
I also extend my heartfelt thanks to Mr H R Kattimani, retired excise inspector of Gadag, Mr D M Bilagi, Mr Mustaq S Bawakhan for their support and encouragement.

I profusely thank my esteemed colleague Mrs Sakeena Nasser, Lecturer in Economics, S V S College, Bantwal for her unflinching help in going through this thesis from the language point of view. My thanks are due to Mr Maheshwar Soulabhavi, who prepared a neat alignment of the script.

This thesis is the result of a loving and caring environment designed by my mother, sisters, sister-in-law and other family members who gave up many days of family-time to enable me to continue on research and complete this study. I am exceedingly thankful to my brother Mr Saleem M Magalmam who is source of inspiration not only in this work but also in my whole life. Today, I am in this position because of his moral and encompassing support. My wife Mrs Mufeeda housewife in her own right endured many hardships to see me through, the least of which were her typing and clarifications on some points of my thesis. Her infinite patience has made all the difference. My eight year lovely daughter Ruheen, nephew Mahir and niece Nishad, needs special mention, for their ardent hope that I would finish my work within the prearranged period of time, so that they could have my undivided attention. I also thank my mother-in-law and brother-in-laws especially for their continued prayers for my success.
