Acknowledgement

"Acknowledge People, Not their Jobs."

– Joey Reiman

At the end of the journey of this research produce, from the beginning till the date of finish, I have come across a number of people whose contribution in assorted ways to the research and the making of the thesis deserved special mention. It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude to them all in my humble acknowledgment.

First and foremost, I would like to thank my greatest teacher of all almighty Allah, for answering my prayers for giving me the strength to plod. I know that I am here and that I am able to write all of this for a reason. I will do my best in never forgetting what a great fortune I have had in just being here, and that it comes with a lesson and a responsibility. I hope I am doing the work you have planned me to do.

My vocabulary fails to provide me with suitable words to acknowledge the generous guidance of my Supervisor, Professor Nawab Ali Khan, Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh. I will remain indebted all my life to Prof. Nawab Ali Khan for his supervision, advice, and guidance from the very early stage of this research as well as giving me extraordinary experiences throughout the work. Above all and the most needed, he provided me unflinching encouragement and support in various ways. His truly scientist intuition has made him as a constant oasis of ideas and passions in commerce, which exceptionally inspire and enrich my growth as a student and as a researcher. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Ph.D study. His understanding, encouraging and personal guidance have provided a good basis for the present thesis.

I owe my most sincere gratitude to Chairman and Professor Ziauddin Khairowala, and our Dean, Professor Sibgatullah Farooqui, Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, for their time to time suggestions and information with guidance and supportive encouragements.
My sincere thanks to our seminar in charge, especially Mr. Khwaja Pervez and Mr. Ali Hassan, Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for their whole hearted cooperation in providing the overall facilities of the library to me without any obstacles.

I would also like to thank Ms. Fariha Ishratullah, who supported me through her superior computer skills, a skill that was not known to me adequately before this endeavour.

During this work I have collaborated with many colleagues especially Ms. Naghma Zia, Ms. Asma Khan, Mrs. Mariam Mehtab and Mrs. Saadia Lodi and my juniors especially Ms. Sheema Tarab, for whom I have great regard, and I wish to extend my warmest thanks to all those who have helped me with my work.

Last but not the least, I owe my loving thanks to my parents, they raised me, support me, taught me, and loved me. To them I dedicate this thesis. I wish to thank my sister, my brothers, especially Dr. Firoz Khan, MS, Department of Surgery, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh and Mr. Shoeb Khan, for their encouragement and moral support.

In the end I would again like to thank all these great personalities for their guidance, suggestions, assistance, cooperation, patience, affection and blessing they have bestowed.

Nadeem Fatima