ABSTRACT

Natural cures are more adequate in conviction that they are more secure with less symptoms than engineered ones. Natural definitions have developing interest on planet market. Present work manages improvement and assessment of natural Anti-Acne gel containing concentrate of Opuntia ficus-indica, Piper nigrum, Pterocarpus santalinus and their Polyherbal formulation topical gel. Albeit different topical natural plans for skin break out are accessible in business sector. Plants have been accounted for in writing having great hostile to microbial, against oxidant and calming movement. Various Polyherbal Anti-Acne gel containing concentrate of Opuntia ficus-indica, Piper nigrum, Pterocarpus santalinus were readied utilizing gelling specialists like carbopol were assessed for different parameters like shading, appearance, consistency, launderability, pH, spreadability alongside antimicrobial viability study. Improved plan was contrasted and advertised planning. Amongst all detailing concentrated on ACGF8 and ACGF9 bunch was discovered ideal for all parameter. It is decent endeavor to build up home grown gel containing concentrate of concentrate of Opuntia ficus-indica, Piper nigrum, Pterocarpus santalinus. Herbal plans have developing interest on planet market. It is decent endeavor to build up natural Anti-Acne gel containing concentrate of Opuntia ficus-indica, Piper nigrum, Pterocarpus santalinus and their Polyherbal formulation topical gel.

KEYWORDS: Polyherbal Formulation, Natural Anti-Acne Topical gel, Opuntia ficus-indica, Piper nigrum and Pterocarpus santalinus