ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A research work can be compiled by consolidating perfumed judgement of many research scholars. I have been fortunate enough to embrace the grace of such outstanding scholars. I completed this task on their cordial support.

Development of agriculture is an essential for the economic development of India. Agricultural sector has tremendous capacity to provide employment opportunities. Research in agriculture required the knowledge in the field of agricultural development. The Indian agriculture has transformed significantly during planning era. The agricultural development of India has been however unbalanced both crop-wise and region-wise. Self-reliance on food is the main contribution of Indian agriculture. Indian agriculture has been changing. Globalization and liberalization brought new opportunities to Indian agriculture.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my parents and teachers who shaped me. I wish to thank most vigorously to my research guide Dr. B. N. Belagali who inspired and guided for carrying this research work in time.

Hon'ble Dr. Patangrao Kadam, Chancellor, Bharati Vidyapeeth, Deemed University, Pune, constructed the walls of his career by bricks of flowers and cemented by perfumed oil. He is the spring of me to be busy with books to galvanize the career. Hence, my words are really insufficient to praise and appraise his value and volume of his personality. I owe him and offer my deep sense of gratitude to him.
Equally I am grateful to Dr. Shivajiraò Kadam, Pro-vice Chancellor, Bharati Vidyapeeth, Deemed University, Pune, and member of UGC, New Delhi, whose inspirations brought new and novel thoughts to frame this precious research work.

My thanks are also due to Dr R. V. Nakat, V. P. Pawar Assistant Professor, Mahatma Phule Krushi Vidyapeeth, Rahuri.

I am heartily indebted to the betelvine cultivators in the Sangli district who have given hearty response in filling up questionnaires and provided valuable information through interviews.

I thank to Dr. D.G. Kanase, Principal, Bharati Vidyapeeth, M.B.S.K. Kanya Mahavidyala, Kadegaon, Shri A.K. Phadnis, Dr. S.N. Borhade, Dr. Mrs. S. S. Kulkarni, Dr. V.S. Salunke, Shri A.B. Mali and Shri Sachine Langade for their valuable help during this research study.

I am equally indebted to my wife, Archana and my daughter Nerita and son Shardul for their innocent inspiration.

Finally, I wish to thank many individuals and institutions which have helped me directly and indirectly for the completion of this research work.
