BIBLIOGRAPHY

Curtain, Richard (2001). Promoting youth employment through information and communication technologies (ICT) Best practices examples in Asia and the Pacific/ pdf

Dasgupta, Kalpana. Libraries and librarians in India on the threshold of the 3rd millennium: challenges-Garai, Atanu and Shadrach, B. (2006). Taking ICT to every Indian village: opportunities and challenges, One World South Asia, New Delhi, 68.

General studies manual (2005), New Delhi, Unique, 498.

New Delhi: Centre for information research and development, 46-49.

Satpathy, S K. (2004). Community information service (CIS) through public libraries; a realistic solution. Information, communication, library and

Singh, Nirvikar (2004). Information technology and rural development in India., University of California, Santa Cruz, USA Unnikrishnan,P V. and Sreedharan, E M. Information communication technologies; towards an alternative policy framework for implementation.

http://home.nic.in/

http://itschool.gov.in/index.php

http://kerala.gov.in/archive/442.pdf

http://kissankerala.net/kissan/kissancontents/about.jsp

http://meghalaya.nic.in/blocks/about.htm

http://ruralinformatics.nic.in/files/4_9_0_5.pdf

http://searchciomidmarket.techtarget.com/sDefinition/.html

http://www.akshaya.net/

http://www.cdac.org/home.htm

http://www.cdit.org/home.htm

http://www.crd.kerala.gov.in/index.htm