ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I find words inadequate to express my gratitudes to my revered guide Vd. Prof. Y.G. Joshi, who, by virtue of his valuable suggestions and concrete ideas made me to complete this work.

I owe a special debt to Dr. P.H. Kulkarni, ex-Dean, Ayurved faculty, University Poona, for his encouragement and affectionate suggestions.

I would take an opportunity to convey my heartfelt thanks to Dr. S.N. Purchure, Dean, Ayurved faculty, Poona University for his advices and guidance.

I must acknowledge my sincere thanks to Dr. H.S. Mahashabde, Principal, R.T. Ayurved Mahavidyalaya, Akola, for making privileges by availing necessary facilities and apart enthusiastic suggestions, concrete and irrefutable logics has always been a dynamic force behind whatever I achieved in this institution, especially an everlasting zeal to learn Ayurveda.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. A.S. Ketkar, Vice-Principal, Dr. Deshmukh, R.M.O. for their kind suggestions as and when needed.

My sincere thanks to Dr. S.S. Kale, M.D., D.C.H. a reputed Pediatrician in Akola, who has given full co-operation by providing good number of polio cases to complete my clinical work.

I also extend my heart-felt thanks to Shri Prof. N.S. Gandhi prasad, Reader, Economics Department, Punjabrao Krishi Vidyapeeth, Akola, for his valuable suggestions and statistical analysis.

I must thank Dr. D.M. Dalal, Dr. A.B. Lohokpure, Dr. Nalinde, Dr. Mokalkar and students of our college who have voluntarily provided me their precious and valuable services.

It would be dread felony if I do not dedicate this thesis to my beloved mother and my son who left us with full of sorrow and also I should not debar from my gratitude to my father and elder brothers for their utmost affection and bension to accomplish this work. It is equally important to mention the name of my wife Smt. P. Jayalaxmi for her co-operation to complete this thesis in time.

Last but not the least my sincere thanks to Mr. Jain, who has typed this thesis so nicely.
