ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We live in such a society where everyone is interdependent on everyone else. I am also no exception. I am indebted to Prof. Sulabha Natraj for providing great guidelines and creative insights to carry out something unique in the field of education. I appreciate her open-mindedness to accept and modify even the strangest suggestions/ideas. Since the beginning of my association with her as a student of B.Ed. in 2003, she has been guiding and motivating me to go further on educational ventures. Madam, I consider you as my role model and guiding light.

I am grateful to Prof. R. G. Kothari for providing me keen insights on research methodology. He is one of the gems of the educational world. I equally appreciate the former Head, Department of Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Prof. S. C. Panigrahi and the Present Head, Prof. R. C. Patel for their support during the period of this research work.

Being a Haemophilic, I am in constant need of doctors. I am indebted to Dr Seema Bhatwadekar for saving my life in 2014. She has always been a cheerful and ever-helping lady, not only to me but also to all the members of Haemophilia fraternity. I am grateful for your support and care, Madam. Without your medical vision and help, we (especially I) would not have survived so far. I am equally indebted to my friends and doctors Dr Krunal Chauhan and Dr Krunal Banker for timely help and those midnight care. They are not only dedicated doctors but also devoted friends – gifts of God to me. I am grateful to Mr Rushi Dave- the rare expert in the field of body language, for teaching and motivating me to work extensively on the subject - nonverbal communication. I appreciate those personal sessions with you to discuss this work.
Finally, when I look at my family at home, I am indebted to my brothers-Chetan Chauhan and Mitesh Chauhan- and my parents – Chandrakant Chauhan and Chandrika Chauhan. They have worked tirelessly for me throughout their lives. Whatever I have become today is the results of their efforts and trust in me. Their support and love are confidence and self-esteem for me to go ahead with the head high. No words can match their devotion. Mrunal Shah is the boon of God to me in this life. Not only a devoted brother but also a sincere and hard-working individual to whom I admire and follow for his rigorous working style and zeal for study. You have made our life joyous by your presence. Thanks for the prolonged and untiring support for completion of this work. A special mention to my daughters – Bhavyaa and Manyaa, who are the source of motivation and happiness for me. I am indebted to my wife Manisha Chauhan for caring, loving and guiding me throughout this work. She is a constant supporter and practical advisor to me. During this work (in the period of five years), I have been to many trials and tribulations, I am grateful to her to be on my side and never allows the motivation to wither away in me. This work is dedicated to you.

I am grateful to God for helping me and giving me the special privileges that I am enjoying today. Your teaching is touching my heart, mind and soul forever.

Thank you to all who have supported me in this work directly or indirectly.

Regards,

Bhavin Chauhan
