ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The life without entertainment is like a body without the soul. Tons of ‘Thanks’ to the Balaji Productions and Ekta Kapoor for the ‘K’serials produced, without which this thesis would not have taken place.

I sing the song of ‘Thanks giving’ in praise of God the Almighty for giving me strength to pull on, to complete the work inspite of the unanticipated challenges of various types throughout the course from beginning to end.

I am greatly grateful to Dr. B Y PATIL M.A., M. Phil, Ph.D Professor and Head Department of PG Studies in English and Research, Alva’s Centre, for P G Studies and Research Moodbidri; who is an embodiment of patience and Scholarship. I thank him for being my Guide and guiding me in all my endeavours, and leading to completing my work.

I am indebted to all the Professors of English Department, for kindling my thoughts on Cultural Studies and giving a platform to share the thoughts in my Post Graduation at the Kuvempu University and inspiring me to proceed further in this direction.

I am thankful to my friends Akhila Kartikeyan and Chandramouleshwar for trusting me and lending me their most valuable laptops in the initial stage.

I owe a debt of gratitude to the Management Principal, HOD and many colleagues with whom I work at the Jain College, Bangalore, each of whom, in different but equally important ways, contributed to my thinking and writing.

I cannot forget the encouragement given to me by my favorite teacher Lakshmi Gairola and her family in all my publications. I thank her cordially. I typed my first synopsis on her computer.

I take this privilege to thank my Father- in- law Sri. Siddalingayya and my Mother-in-law Smt. Vijaya for their moral support and blessings.
I am obligated to my Father Sri S.M. Hiremath who provided constant reminders of what passion, commitment, hard work and hope look like in place of teaching and research. I owe him all the credit of this research work of mine.

I place on record the untiring vigilance of my Mother Smt. Shobha Hiremath and her special criticism.

I thank my brother Akshar who encouraged me to watch and debate over the serials.

I thank the Librarian of CSCS, Bangalore and Librarian of Jain University for providing me timely help in the review of Literature.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to Sri. Prakash Global Net & Commercials, Harihar for the technical support, flawless printing and beautiful and attractive binding.

I thank all my friends and relatives for their motivation and appreciation of my work.

R. W. Emerson has said, ‘Talent alone cannot make a writer, behind every writer there is a man’. In my case, he is none other than my kind and co-operative husband Sri. Virupakshayya Charantimath. I thank him whole heartedly.

I wish to acknowledge the patience and trust of the English Department of Kuvempu University solving unanticipated problems of other kinds.

Finally I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all those; who have directly or indirectly helped me, as the writing moved from first to final draft.

THANK YOU
TEJASWINI S. HIREMATH
