Acknowledgement

I am indebted to all the organizations, libraries and individuals who have cooperated and contributed directly or indirectly to complete the thesis, “A Social History of Disease and Prostitution in Bengal: From Syphilis to AIDS” and offered their valuable support to turn this ‘mission impossible’ into a reality. However, the staffs of the National Library, Calcutta, West Bengal State AIDS Prevention and control Society, Sanlaap, and DMSC deserve special mention.

No word of thanks are sufficient to express my heartfelt gratitude towards my supervisor, Prof.Ritu Priya, CSMCH, JNU who acted through out as a reservoir of strength, courage, and academic resource to undertake this rigorous research and accommodated me at the odd hours.

I am grateful to Prof. Rama V. Baru and Prof.K.R.Nayar for reminding me the importance of and urgency to complete the work from time to time.

I would like to express my gratitude to Prof. Mohan Rao and the entire faculty of CSMCH for their support and academic inputs.

No work could be sustained without economic assistance. I would remain grateful to ICHR (Indian Council of Historical Research) as well as JNU-UGC for supporting the work and the researcher financially by awarding their fellowships.

My gratitude to Prof.Gautam Bhadra, CSSS, Kolkata, who taught me history since I was at school.

Special thanks to Prof.V.K.Jain and Dr. Ira Bhaskar for extending their cooperation.

I am thankful to my younger sister Suranjana Ghosh and friend Radhika Menon who stood by me at the times of need. I am gratified to Bishakha Chakraborty for helping me out with the editing of the thesis.

I would like to express my gratitude to my parents whose presence has influenced my life.

And thanks to Satish Ji for helping me out with required information from time to time. And finally, thanks to Mr.Yogesh Kapoor who did the rigorous work of formatting the thesis.

There are many actors behind the scene-relatives, well wishers, friends, and individuals whose names may not be mentioned here but whose good wishes instilled confidence and inspired me to complete this work.

Suchetana Ghosh.
