ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe many debts to a good many scholars and friends who helped me transform raw data into the doctoral dissertation.

To Professor H.D. Sankalia I express my profound gratitude for his generous help and careful supervision of my dissertation at the Deccan College, Poona. Besides being a preceptor, he has been my mentor as well and any amount of thanks would be too meagre a tribute to him.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. S.N. Rajaguru for being kind enough to read through the geological section of the dissertation and for his several suggestions that have been incorporated; to Professor R.V. Joshi, Dr. V.N. Misra, Dr. K. Paddayya for their invaluable help as well as for allowing me to use their as yet unpublished Papers; and to Dr. R.S. Papru for supervising my excavation at Samadhiala.

I express my special thanks to Mr A.R. Marathe and Mr G.M. Kanhere for helping me to analyze and to interpret the metrical data. I am also thankful to Dr. M.L.K. Murthy, Dr. G.L. Badam, Dr. S. Guzder, Mr M.D. Kajale, Mr R. Korisettar, Mr P.K. Thomas and besides many more for their various kinds of help. Above all, my thanks go to Professor S.B. Deo for warm sympathy and encouragement.

A special acknowledgement is due to Dr. Derek Roe of the Oxford University for sending us one of his yet unpublished papers on a metrical analysis of the Kalambo Falls material which I have received through Dr. Paddayya, and which I have freely drawn upon while dealing with the Kalubhar Valley large cutting tools, especially the cleavers.

Grateful acknowledgement is due to the State Department of Archaeology, Gujarat, and I would particularly like to thank Mr. J.M. Nanavati, Mr. C.M. Atri, Mr. D.P. Mehta and Mr. P.D. Cudasama for their help and cooperation.

Financial support for research at the initial stages was provided by a Scholarship of the Deccan College and later on by a Junior Fellowship from the University Grants Commission. I am grateful to these institutions for the support I received.

Of the many illustrations of the cultural material Mr. R.B. Warke has drawn the stone tools; Miss M.A. Paranjape has prepared the river sections; Mr. R.B. Sapre has redrawn the histograms; Mr. V.K. Nagpure took photographs of the stone tools; and Mr. S.R. Prabhu has typed the manuscript. To each of them I wish to record my sincere appreciation and thanks.

30th September 1977

S. Chakrabarti