CONTENTS

PART ONE ... ... ... (i)-(vii)

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ... ... ... (ix)-(x)

CHAPTER I

ENGLISH LANGUAGE IN INDIA AND INDO-ANGLIAN PROSE STYLE

Background - English as the Official language in India ... ... 1 - 3

Spread of English in the National life and the birth of a new prose style ... ... 3 - 7

Nineteenth Century English prose style in India ... ... 8 - 11

Birth of Indo-anglian literature and its creative expansion in different fields during the Nineteenth Century ... ... 11 - 26

Prose style of Nineteenth Century Indo-Anglian Fiction ... ... 26 - 33

Defects of Nineteenth Century Indo-Anglian Fiction ... ... 33 - 49

English prose style in the novels after 1920 - emergence of a new diction ... ... 49 - 52

Indo-Anglian novel as the spearhead of progressive ideas and experiments ... ... 52 - 58

Experimentation in the use of new prose diction ... ... 58 - 62

R.K. Narayan and his treatment of themes ... ... 62 - 64

Narayan's adherence to the Indian tradition ... ... 64 - 87
Two facets to the configuration of the national tradition in his novels:

- Social ideas ... ... 67 - 74
- Social subconscious ... 74 - 83

The writer's anonymity to individual recognition ... 83 - 89

K. Karayan's treatment of standard Indian English ... 89 - 92

Appendix ... ... 92 - 115

References ... ... 116 - 123

CHAPTER II

KALGUDI AS THE FICTIONAL SETTING OF KALGUDI'S NOVELS

- Kalgudi as comic projection of India ... 124 - 129
- The Principal landmarks of Kalgudi ... 129 - 132
- Kalgudi - a contrast between two generations - old and new ... 133 - 143
- Kalgudi as a living and dynamic personality - not a mere geographical expression ... 143 - 148
- Kalgudi marches towards progress and prosperity ... 148 - 153
- Kalgudi represents the relationship of ageing parents and rebellious children of India ... 153 - 156
- Influx of outsiders adds an additional charm and importance to the Kalgudi life ... 156 - 158
- Kalgudi as a special environment - penetration beneath its local characteristics to the universal facts of human existence ... 158 - 165.
The clash in temperament and traditions of Falgudians is a part of the life of the whole human race ... 165 - 166

Against all external changes the timeless quality of Falgudi maintained ... 168 - 169

The canvas crowded with typical men and women suitable to the setting. ... 169 - 175

Conclusion: Falgudi - revelation of eternal India ... 175 - 176

References ... 178 - 179

CHAPTER III

INTRODUCTION: SIGNIFICANCE OF THE TERM ... 133 - 135

Asceticism as a stage of spiritual upliftment from darkness to light ... 135 - 138

Asceticism as the foundation stone of Indian religion and culture ... 138 - 142

Four stages of life and asceticism ... 139 - 140

Asceticism and its impact on A.K. Jharaj's novels ... 142 - 144

Treatment of asceticism as comedy ... 145 - 148

Treatment of the ideal of sainthood true to the definition of Jivan - Mukta ... 150 - 152

Themes of redemption treated on a tragic level ... 152 - 154

References ... 160 - 162

CHAPTER IV

THE TIME OF ASCETICISM: OR SPIRITUAL UPLIFTCMENT IN A.K. JHARAJ'S NOVELS

Introduction: Significance of the term ... 133 - 135

Asceticism as a stage of spiritual upliftment from darkness to light ... 135 - 138

Asceticism as the foundation stone of Indian religion and culture ... 138 - 142

Four stages of life and asceticism ... 139 - 140

Asceticism and its impact on A.K. Jharaj's novels ... 142 - 144

Treatment of asceticism as comedy ... 145 - 148

Treatment of the ideal of sainthood true to the definition of Jivan - Mukta ... 150 - 152

Themes of redemption treated on a tragic level ... 152 - 154

References ... 160 - 162
Eternity as the central chord of Indian spiritual consciousness and the spiritual significance of Indian system of marriage ... 214 - 220

The Protagonist in quest of self-knowledge ... 220 - 223

An attempt of compromise between the house-holder and the sanyasi - treatment of the stage of Vanaprasthya or retreat ... 223 - 228

Asceticism as the principal point of interest in 'the guides' - the transformation of a bogus holyman into a dying god ... 223 - 233

The transformation unfolded in different stages of development ... 233 - 244

Asceticism - a deep-seated motive that constitutes the very setting of the form ... 244 - 246

Appendix ... 246 - 248

References ... 248 - 272

CHAPTER IV

THE MYTHIC STRUCTURE IN A.K.N.ROY'S CYCLE

Definition and the specific context of the use of myth ... 273 - 280

The scope of the use of myth in Indian and Indo-Anglian literature ... 280 - 283

Two ways of the use of myth in the Indo-Anglian fiction ... 283 - 286
Lyth as a part of digressive technique.

Mythical design and the cyclical, structural unity in the later novels.

The structural pattern in 'The Bachelor of Arts'.

The symbolic elevation of traditional Hindu womanhood and ritual, myth.

The theme of the peaceful cosmos and ritual in the novel.

The mythical significance of the title—'The Dark Loon'.

The structural pattern in 'The Later'.

The structural pattern in 'The Dark Loon'.
The logical consequence of attachment leading to a moral crisis in the cyclical order of life ... 335 - 341

Divergence from the goal of self-knowledge causing imbalance between experience and the deterministic universe ... 339 - 341

The financial expert follows a scheme like that of 'm. mumpath' ... 341 - 345

The execution of the myth of Karma and the disturbance of the eternal Hindu view of life ... 345 - 352

'm. mumpath' and 'The Financial Expert' - similar in construction and end with a completed cycle of events ... 352 - 358

Relevance of the classical myths to modern life in 'The Wild' - the theme of attachment and that of release from the wheel of existence ... 358 - 362

The sainthood motif treated on a mythical level ... 362 - 367

'Maju' - more a victim of avarice or Karma than of ?omosis ... 367 - 372

Maju's act of self-immolation as an attempt of release from the wheels of existence ... 372

Application of urobian myth in 'The Waiting for the Mahatma' ... 371 - 374

Jingle - sustained myth ... 374 - 376

References ... 376 - 378
The difficulties of the Indo-Anglian novelist in the use of English language ... 400 - 403

Paraye introduces a style of his own strictly maintaining logical and syntactical sequence ... 411 - 415

The quality of Paraye's prose style - its simplicity and transparency ... 415 - 421

Use of highly poetical language for a literary purpose ... 421 - 428

Paraye's use of gentle irony arising out of comic imagination ... 428 - 429

Unobtrusiveness of Paraye's prose diction - a rare characteristic in the whole bulk of Indo-Anglian writing ... 429 - 431

Experiment in imagery - a spontaneous process : Indian imagery characteristic of Indo-Anglian style ... 431 - 433

Metaphors and similes not natural components of Paraye's syntax and diction : imagery not the only vehicle of his perception ... 453 - 454

Particularity and concreteness of reference: an artistic realisation ... 453 - 454
A narrative device of digressive nature: an index of the objectivity of the characters as narrators... 454 - 455

Economy of vocabulary items: emphasis more on semantic rather than syntactic expression... 430 - 435

Narayan’s style: capable of greater effects: reflects correlation between logic and syntax: the cognitive values and the values of the novelist himself... 436 - 472

References... ... ... 478 - 479

CHAPTER VI

NARAYAN – A VERSION VI

N.K. Narayan: a popular novelist both in India and abroad... 473 - 481

His comic view of the universe... 491 - 494

Balance of power in human relationship: a correct view of the world... 493 - 498

Narayan’s philosophy stems from Vedantic view of life... 433 - 439

The society of Calcutta: a part of universal order: a part of universal society... 490 - 493

His world-view of a cyclical order and the wheels of existence... 498 - 497

Narayan’s literary device as a part of the study of an individual against the scheme of an inevitable determined cyclical order... 498 - 504
Jarayan's novels introduce us into a living world...

References...

B I B L I O G R A P H Y...

504 - 533

500 - 505...