ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I feel privileged to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S. L. Basak, M.Sc (Ag) (Cal), Ph.D. (IARI), Director, Jute Agricultural Research Institute (now renamed as Central Research Institute for Jute and Allied Fibres) I.C.A.R., Barrackpore, West Bengal, India for his invaluable guidance during the course of this investigation. Without his sustained interest and constant guidance perhaps this work would not have seen the light of the day.

It is also my pleasure to put on record my indebtedness to Dr. T. Ghose, M.Sc., Ph.D., former Director of this Institute and Consultant to FAO (Rome) for his encouragement.

I acknowledge with special gratitude the invaluable advice of Prof. R. N. Basu, Dean, Faculty of Agriculture, Calcutta University.

My sincere thanks are also due to Dr. K. K. Goswami, Mr. B.K. Samanta and Dr. P. Datta, Scientist (statistics) of this Institute for their valuable suggestions for analysing the data statistically.

I am indeed very thankful to Mr. Amitava Saha and Dr. P. Paria, scientist of this Institute for their constant help and active co-operation during this investigation.

My sincere thanks are also due to Mr. S. K. Bose and Mr. S. K. De, Librarians of this Institute for their active co-operation.

Dated, the 10th November, 1990
