ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to express my sense of gratitude to many people for their guidance, suggestions, support and inspirations all through the research endeavour. I owe my greatest debt of gratitude to Dr. O.R. KRISHNASWAMI, formerly Senior Professor, Dean and Head of the Department of Commerce and Management Studies, Bangalore University, Bangalore. He evinced keen interest in the study and spared ills valuable time and ideas most generously. I express my deepest sense of gratitude to him.

I am very much indebted to Dr. V. KULANDAISWAMY, P.G. Department of Cooperation, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya Arts College (Autonomous), Coimbatore. He filled the vacuum created by the absence of Dr. O.R. Krishnaswami, who left the country on a foreign assignment. He was generous and readily accepted to guide me in the [dace of Dr. O.R. Krishnaswami for the remaining part, of my study. lie took pains in going through the chapters inspite of his tight schedule. 1 venture my deepest sense of gratitude to him as words cannot do due justice for what he has done.

I extend my thanks to Dr. G.P. Rao, Professor and Head of the Department of Management Studies, Madurai kamaraj University, Madurai, Dr. M.O. Mathew, formerly Professor and Head of the Department of Commerce, Annamalai University, Annamalai Nagar, Dr. S.Sivasubramanian, formerly Professor of Political Science and Public Administration, Gandhigram Rural Institute (Deemed University), Gandhigram for their contribution as members of the Doctoral Committee.

I am very much indebted to the Vice-Chancellor and the authorities of the Gandhigram Rural Institute, Gandhigram for permitting me to get myself registered for the Ph.D. Programme. I would like to place on record my appreciation to the authorities in Administration at Gandhigram Rural Institute, but for whose prompt action the present study would not have come through.
I am indebted to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi for the financial support offered under Minor Research Projects.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. M. Joseph, Professor and head of the Department of Cooperation, Gandhigram Rural Institute who lent support generously and inspired me at every stage of the work.

I thank the Registrar of Cooperative Societies, Tamil Nadu for permitting me to visit and collect data from all the Central Cooperative Banks in Tamil Nadu. I am obliged to the Special Officers of all the Central Cooperative Banks in Tamil Nadu for according permission to collect data and also for providing assistance while collecting data in the banks. I am very much thankful to the Secretaries, Assistant Secretaries (Administration) and Managers and Assistants in the Establishment section of all the Central Cooperative Banks in Tamil Nadu for their support in collecting data, without whose cooperation the study would not have been possible. I may fail, if I do not acknowledge my thanks to the respondents who promptly responded to my request for response through mailed questionnaire.

I extend my thanks to Shri V.P. Srinivasan, General Secretary, Tamil Nadu Cooperative Bank Employees' Association, Madras and office-bearers of the Employees' Associations in Central Cooperative Banks in Tamil Nadu for their support extended to gather information relevant to my study.

My thanks are also due to Sri V. Ananda Padmanaban, Trident Enterprises, Dindigul for his computerised work done in preparation of charts, diagrams and tables, etc.

I, also extend my thanks to Sri C. Ramanujarn, Senior Research Officer, Sri U. Murugesan and Smt. T. Sarojini, Computer Operators of the Gandhigram Institute of Rural health and Family Welfare Trust, Gandhigram for rendering their support in computerisation of data.
I am very much thankful to my colleagues, Dr. N. Narayanaswami, Reader in Cooperation, Dr. B.R. Dwaraki, Reader in Sociology, Sri B. Subburaj, Senior Lecturer in Cooperation, Sri M.R. Kubendran, Senior Lecturer in English, Mrs. Lakshmi, Lecturer in English, Sri N.D. Mani, Lecturer in Cartography and Sri N. Arumugam, Librarian, Gandhigram Rural Institute for their support and inspiration during the course of my study.

I thank Sri P. Ramalingam, Typist of the Gandhigram Institute of Rural Health and Family Welfare Trust, Gandhigram and Sri A.S. Veeramani of the Centre for Entrepreneur Development, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai who did the typing work.

I am immensely thankful to my wife and children who extended their helping hands in completing my study.

Finally I would like to express my appreciation to each and every one who offered help in this endeavour, sometime or the other.

P. SIVAPRAKASAM