Acknowledgement

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere feelings of gratitude and indebtedness towards my guide Dr. Mahajan P. Mani, Rt. Professor of School of Gandhian Thought and Development Studies, Mahatma Gandhi University; I bow, before this versatile genius, for his ability to focus meticulous attention, towards even minute details leading to conclusion with impeccable infallibility. His dexterity and diligence compiled with keen sense of observation have inspired me in pursuing my research. I consider it as an honour to be a research scholar under his guidance.

This dissertation would not have been possible without the guidance and the help of few great individuals who are working round the clock with full of compassion and love for the victims of child sexual abuse. Hence I remember all the Child Welfare Committee members in various districts who assisted by sharing their valuable experiences. I am grateful to Sri. P.O George (CWC Chairperson, Thrissur, Smt. Padmaja Nair (CWC Chairperson, Ernakulam), Shri. C.J Antony (CWC Chairperson, Kollam), Smt. K.U. Mary Kutty (CWC Chairperson, Kottayam) Sr. Pranidha MSJ, Dr. Janaki Sankaran, Smt. Sheela Mariyam Umen, Adv. Raji. P. Joy (CWC Members) who in one way or another contributed or extended their valuable assistance in the preparation and completion of the study.

My special thanks to Dr. M.S. John, Director of School of Gandhian Thought and Development Studies for his kind concern and consideration regarding my academic requirements.

The motivation to select this topic came from the book of Dr. Maryann McCabe, Senior Lecturer, University of Rochester, New York. It was her suggestions through e-mails which laid initial foundations for my study. I take this opportunity to thank her.
I owe my gratitude to Ms. Susan Stephen, Senior Social Worker, Ealing Children’s Services, London Borough of Ealing, United Kingdom for her valuable guidance and corrections.

I acknowledge with gratitude all the teaching and non teaching staff of the SGTDS department.

I thank Mr. Viju V., Librarian, SGTDS for helping me with books and online resources. I also remember librarians and staff of Mahatma Gandhi University library, CDS library Thiruvananthapuram and Rajagiri school of Social Sciences Kalamassery for permitting me to use their facilities to develop an understanding of the subject.

I am very thankful to Dr. Jose Antony, Head of the Department, Social Work, Sree Sankaracharya University of Kalady and all the other teaching staff members for their amity and encouragement during the course of my research.

It is a pleasure to thank my friends who encouraged me tirelessly. Midhun P Lal, John Bosco Paiva, Manu Raphael, Neethu Nadeshan, Lincy Rony, Elizabeth Thekkekkara, Mariam Thomas, Rosemary John, Fathima Shamsudeen, Anjana Joy, Arun Paul Menachery, Ashwathy Sreekala and Ajeesh Sebastian. You made this journey a lot easier.

A special thanks to a very special individual Ms. Vidya Lakshmi P.R for the care and support shown to me in the adversities of my life.
I owe a life time of thankfulness to my father Late Mr. Joseph Correya and mother Mary Della Correya who always wanted me to do things differently and who believed in me, my brother Jithin Correya and my extended family have always been a solid foundation of love and support for me. I love you more than anything and I appreciate all your patience and prayers to do well in studies.

I dedicate this work to the victims of child sexual abuse for continuing their fights for justice and to all those individuals who hold their hands to support them, to leave behind their traumatic experiences and to approach their life with positive hope.

I bow my head to the divine grace which supported me throughout this study.

JOFFER CORREYA