In the present research the researcher makes some hypotheses which are:

Measures of depression are related to the economic status of the aged.

In a word, the first hypothesis is this that ‘the measures of depression are related to the economic status of the aged leads to a relationship between Depression and Economic Status.

Measures of depression are related to the involvement in religious activities.

In a word, the second hypothesis is this that ‘measures of depression are related to the involvement in religious activities’ leads to a relationship between Depression and Involvement in religious activities.

Measures of depression are related to the frequency of religious tours.

In a word, the third hypothesis is this that ‘Measures of depression is related to the frequency of religious tours’ leads to a relationship between Depression and Religious Tours.

Measures of Depression are related to the loss of authority of the elders over other family members.

In a word, the fourth hypothesis is this that ‘Measures of Depression is related to the loss of authority of the elders over other family members’ leads to state that the depression is related to the loss of authority of the elders over other family members.
Measures of Depression are related to the feeling of loneliness.

In a word, the fifth hypothesis is this that, ‘Measures of Depression is related to the feeling of loneliness’ leads to the relationship Depression and Loneliness.

Measures of depression are related to the feeling of ignorance by others.

In a word, the sixth hypothesis is this that ‘Measures of depression is related to the feeling of ignorance by others’ leads to the relationship between Depression and ignorance by others.

Measures of the Depression are related to the burden on family.

In a word, the seventh hypothesis is this that, ‘Measures of the Depression is related to the burden on family’ leads to relationship between Depression and burden on the family.

Measures of Depression are related to the worthless to the family.

In a word, the eighth hypothesis is that, ‘Measures of Depression is related to the worthless to the family’ leads to relationship between Depression and worthless to the family.

Measures of Depression are related to the family taking permission in household matters.

In a word, the ninth hypothesis is that, ‘Measures of Depression is related to the family taking permission in household matters’ leads to the relationship between measures of depression and family taking permission regarding household matters from the elders.
Measures of Depression are related to involvement in daily chores of the households like cooking, marketing necessary household goods, taking care of the grand children.

In a word, the tenth hypothesis is that, ‘Measures of Depression is related to involvement in daily chores of the households like cooking, marketing necessary household goods, taking care of the grand children’ leads to the relationship between Depression and Involvement in daily chores of the household like cooking, marketing necessary household goods and taking care of grand children.

Measures of Depression are related to the change of familiar surroundings.

In other words, the eleventh hypothesis is that, ‘Measures of Depression is related to the maintenance of familiar surroundings’ leads to the relationship between Depression and change of familiar surroundings.

Measures of Depression are related to the family care of the respondents.

In a word, the twelfth hypothesis is that, ‘measures of Depression is related to the family care of the respondents’, leads to the relationship between Depression and family care of the respondents.

Measures of Depression are related to the Frequency of tour and travel of the respondents.

In a word, the thirteenth hypothesis is that, ‘measures of Depression is related to the Frequency of tour and travel of the respondents’ leads to the relationship between measures of depression and the frequency of tour and travel of the respondent.
Measures of Depression are related to the response of the young generation to the demands of the elders.

In a word, the fourteenth hypothesis is that, ‘measures of Depression is related to the response of the young generation to the demands of the elders’ leads to the relationship between measures of depression and the response of the young generation to the demands of the elders.

Measures of depression are related to the elders feeling of sadness due to the loss of the spouse.

In a word, the fifteenth hypothesis is that, ‘measures of depression is related to the elders feeling of sadness due to the loss of the spouse’ which leads to the relationship between measures of depression and the feeling of sadness due to loss of spouse.