ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A research work is not simply an artifact created by its researcher alone, but it also incorporates the effort assistance and support of many others. Exploring the facts over this challenging theme and transplanting it into words has been a rich and fantastic journey form. Over the years many people and events have contributed to the realization of this work. It is difficult to express one's gratitude in black & white, however, some truly outstanding people whose assistance, love and care have made this work possible rightfully deserve appreciation and recognizing their valuable contribution is an immensely gratifying moral duty form.

I would first like to thank Dr. Awadhesh Singh, Head, Deptt. of Commerce & Ex-Dean, Faculty of Commerce, Udaipur Pratap Autonomous College, Varanasi, under whose careful and able supervision and guidance this work has been carried out. His critical comments were very much helpful in shaping up this work. Without his support, it would have been almost impossible to lead this work to its culmination.

I am also grateful to other distinguished teachers of the Deptt. of Commerce, Udaipur Pratap Autonomous College, Varanasi for inspiring and encouraging me to devote all my energy in the successful completion of the study.

My most profound feelings of gratitude for Dr. Raghvendra Singh, Reader, Deptt. of Agriculture, UP College, Varanasi for the care he took in nursing & nurturing this work from its inception. I would remain indebted to Dr. Chandra Prakash Singh, Reader, Deptt. of Geography, UP College, Varanasi, for his indispensable help and support.

I would remain indebted to my colleague & friend Mr. Shailendra Singh, Lecturer, RSMT, UP College, Varanasi for his indispensable support & guidance.

My sincere thanks to my father-in-law, Dr. Rajendra Prasad Singh, and my mother-in-law, Mrs. Savitri Singh for active support and help at the most crucial stage of my research. No words can express what my husband Mr. Anand Kumar Singh did for me during all these years of research.

I am highly indebted to my father Mr. Vijay Narayan Singh, Executive Engineer, Irrigation Department, U.P. and my mother Mrs. Shashikala Singh for their moral support and help. They supported me consistently.
I would like to thank my brothers Mr. Yashwant Singh, Reader, Deptt. Of Law, T.D. College, Jaumpur & Mr. Gaurav Singh, PhD Scholar, BHU for their valuable support.

I express my appreciation to all my friends who imbued me with encouragement. I am also thankful to my respondents of the present study.
