ACKNOWLEDGMENT

This work is a reflection of the rays of mercy emitted from the Almighty with whose shower of blessings this task has ventured without any hindrances. I pay my entire obeisance to him for providing me the opportunity to acquire higher education.

I pay my respect to Bhartendu Harischandra Ji who had lightened the candle of learning by putting the foundation of this institution. I will, therefore, ever remain grateful to Harish Chandra P.G. College, Varanasi.

I most sincerely convey my thanks with the best of my respect and gratitude to my respected Supervisor Dr. Hare Govind, Reader, Department of Zoology, whose inspiring teaching, valuable guidance, timely remarks, untiring ceaseless efforts and fruitful suggestions throughout the preparation of this thesis are beyond capacity of my words to reciprocate with thankfulness. It is really bliss for me that he has provided me an opportunity to complete this work under his patronage and guidance.

I owe a deep debt of gratitude to Prof. R.P. Singh, Principal, Harish Chandra P.G. College, Varanasi for providing laboratory facilities. As my teacher he always encouraged me to accomplish this work.

I pay special regards to my respected teachers Dr. H.S. Gundevia, Head, Department of Zoology, Dr. B.B. Singh, Dr. B.K. Nirmal, Dr.
S.R. Pathak and Dr. Geeta Rani whose constant encouragements, suggestions and blessing were always with me.

I am also thankful to Prof. A.K. Maurya, Reader, Department of Zoology, Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi for his help and valuable suggestions during the period of research work.

I am also thankful to my colleagues Shri Dinesh Pandey, Miss Santeshwari, Mr. R.V. Singh and Miss Archana Mishra for their encouragement and cooperation throughout this work.

Parents are the representatives of God on earth. I am highly indebted to my parents, my mother Smt. Kalindi Pandey and my father Shri Pramod Pandey, my brother Himanshu and friends who have played a key role in moulding my thoughts towards higher studies with a constant enthusiasm and affectionate push.

I would like to record my sense of appreciation to Dr. (Smt.) Sabhyata who kept an eye on the progress of my work and always suggested me whenever I needed her advice.

At last, but not the least, I would like to thank lab staffs Shri Jaihind Singh, Mr. Mahatam, Mr. Avanish and Mr. Rakesh for their cooperation during research work.
