Acknowledgement

The study is a doctoral thesis written under the supervision of Dr. R.C. Singh, Reader, Department of English, G.S.P.G. College, Samodhpur, Jaunpur. I take this opportunity with immense pleasure and exaltation to express my deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. R.C. Singh for his extraordinary scholarly suggestion and value oriented cheerful guidance. His prompt, untiring and timely suggestions enabled me to complete the present work within the stipulated period. I owe a special debt of gratitude to Dr. S.P. Tiwari, Principal, S.B.P.G. College, Badlapur, Jaunpur who helped me time to time besides his very college assignments and duties. I am deeply obliged to my father Mr. Samar Bahadur Singh for his numerous unknown inspirations and my mother late Mrs. Savitri Singh, who left for her heavenly abode while I was an orphan but made a special different everyday of her love. I owe deeply to Mr. Raghuraj Singh, my Nana Ji and Mrs. Vaidehi Singh, my Nani Ji for their scattered yet crystalised love and affection. I owe an eternal debt of gratitude to Mr. J.P. Gupta, lecturer in English, Sevashram Intermediate College, Dhindhui, Pratapgarh, who intelligently saw in me the 2nd research scholar in this remote village, Merha only after Dr. L.N. Tripathi, formerly Head, Department of Physics, DDU University, Gorakhpur and Chairman, UP Higher Education Commission, who pursued research 50 years ago. Mr. J.P. Gupta always encouraged with a very special concern pruning endurance to this venture.
I am thankful to members of Staff of National Library, Kolkata, British Council Library, Lucknow, Nehru Library, New Delhi and the Central Libraries of B.H.U., Varanasi, University of Allahabad and Lucknow University. My acknowledgement is also due to the Central Library of S.B.P.G. College, Badlapur which provided me with enough background materials.

And lastly, I must reserve some words of thanks to ‘Asthana Computers’, T.D.College Road, Jaunpur who was kind enough to have typed the manuscripts in time.

Renu Singh