ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A journey is easier when you travel together and sometime interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. It is a pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my gratitude to helping hand behind this work. It is still great at this juncture to recall all the faces and spirits in the form of teachers, friends, near and dear ones. I would consider this work nothing more than incomplete without attending to task of acknowledging the overwhelming help I receive during this endeavour.

At first, I would like to thank my supervisor Dr. N.S.K. Harsh for suggesting me this study, for his energy, enthusiasm and continuous support of my Ph.D. study and related research, for his patience, motivation, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Ph.D. study.

I owe this opportunity to be thankful to Dr. Savita, The Director, Forest Research Institute, Dehradun; Dr. S.S. Negi, Ex. Director FRI and current DGCF Ministry of Forest & Environment and Dr. P.P. Bhojvaid, Ex Director FRI for providing necessary facilities.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Y.P. Singh, Head Forest Pathology Division and Dr. Amit Pandey for their constant support and guidance during this work which proved to be immense help.

I also express my gratitude to Dr. A.K. Tripathi, Registrar, FRI Deemed University.

Words are failing when it comes to express my profound indebtedness to Sh. Jaipal Singh and Sh. Khajan Singh, caretaker Kanasar Forest Rest House for their immense hospitality. This research could not have been completed without their support. They gave shelter, food and even sometime accompany with me to the study area.

I am also extremely thankful to Sh. Ghema Ram Ji, caretaker Deovan nursery who gave food and shelter. He shared some valuable information regarding medicinal and religious uses of mushroom and Sh. Tomar, Forest Guard, Korua for his help in sampling in Korua.

My time at Forest Research Institute was made enjoyable in large part due to my beloved lab mates who became an important part of my life. I am blessed with them who helped me to complete this work. In particular, I am especially thankful to Dr. Rajendra
Prasad and Dr. Dinesh Panwar for their love and care who always encouraged me to do better. I convey special thanks to Dr. Rajendra Prasad, who helped me to understand statistical analysis. I am extremely thankful to my colleague and Seniors Dr. Varun Kumar, Dr. Sona Singh, Dr. Solomon Das, Dr. Kartik Uniyal, Dr. Kanika Sharma Chauhan, Dr. Shikha Thakur and Dr. Jyoti Bisht for their constant support and help.

I would also like to thank Dr. Archna Bagwari, Ms. Kavita, Ms. Pallavi Bhatia, Ms. Anuradha, Ms. Charul Kainthola for their moral support. I am especially thankful to Mr. Vijay Vardhan Pandey for showing interest in fungal collection and visit that he made.

I am thankful to staff of Forest Pathology Division Sh. Suresh Chandra Sharma, Dr. Shailendra Kumar, Smt. Ranjana Juwantha, Sh. Hemant Kumar Gupta, Sh. Anil Khaneja, Sh. Nagendra Singh, Sh. Rajiv Ahuja, Sh. Vijay Kumar, Smt. Pratima Devi, Ms. Rajani Mourya and Mr. Ankit Kothari for their regular support.

This is an opportunity to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Prahlad Singh Mehra, Mr. Deepak Kumar, Mr. Sanjay Thapa, Sh. Chandramani Pant and Mr. Santosh for their regular help and provide necessary facilities for carrying out practical work.

I thank Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) New Delhi for providing fellowship under the research fellowship program (ICMR-JRF).

The eternal foundation of blessings, moral support and never ending sacrifice of my beloved parents Sh. Murari Lal and Smt. Veeravati who has enabled me to reach the footstep of my long cherished aspiration. They have always supported me morally as well as economically and inspired me when I felt hopeless. I also express my heartfelt gratitude towards my brother Ajay Kumar my wife Sonal for their good wishes and emotional help that acted as a divine power to my achievements. Smiley face of my lovely daughter Akshita always help me to lighten the dark hour when inspiration failed and ideas dried up.

At the nib but not the neap tide, I praise God, the almighty for providing me this opportunity and granting me the capability to proceed successfully. Any omitting in this acknowledgement does not reflect any lack of gratitude.
