ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My obeisances to Goddess Kamakshi. I prostrate before Her for giving me the mental and physical strength in taking up the task of doctorate study and completing it within the stipulated time. My humble prostrations and respects to His Holiness, Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal, Sri Maha Periaval, of Kanchi Mutt who had been the preceptor and mentor for our entire family and in particular to my late husband, Dr. S.O.Ramakrishnan.

My regards and respects are due first to my beloved guide, Srimathi Dr. Padma Srinivasan. She was not only my guide but also a friend and philosopher to me treating me as her own sister. But for her guidance and domestic support, this thesis would not have seen the light of day.

With sincere thanks, I acknowledge the encouragement given to me by Dr. C.K.Raman, the Secretary of our S.S.K.V. Institutions and a close friend of my late husband who has been kind enough to provide the basic research materials from his personal library.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not express my acknowledgement to Sri Ramayanam Srinivasan of Kanchi Mutt who took the trouble of teaching me Sri Ramanuja and Visistadvaita. His interest in my venture has been a source of encouragement during my difficult times.

I thank our College Principal Dr.V.Rajagopalan and Dr.T.G.Gopalan for their help and advice regarding the writing. I thank my Principal Smt.C.Bhama for her kind co-operation in proceeding with my work without any hindrance. My thanks are due to Sri.Venugopal, Co-Ordinator, the Department of Computer for his timely help. I whole heartedly thank Snty. Krishnakumari, Department of Computer, for her enormous help rendered to me. I thank Snty. Vanathy, the librarian for her assistance to compile the bibliographical work.

But for people like Snty. Usha and Sri. Muthuraman, Sri. R. Subramony and his wife Snty. S.K. Gowri Sankar, my stay in Madurai would not have been safe and pleasant. I imprint my heartfelt thanks to them. My stay in my guide’s house was made comfortable by her close associate Snty. Seetha and my sincere thanks to her.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. G.R. Balakrishnan, Professor of English and former Principal, Sourashtra College, Madurai and at present Advisor, Subbulakshmi Lakshmipati College, Madurai for his valuable suggestions and inputs he gave during the Synopsis presentation.

My hearty thanks to my son Sri O.R. Seetharaman, his wife Srimathi Sumathi and my grand-daughter Selvi Sai Anandhi for their loving care and help in assisting me with the computing work whenever I did my thesis work there.

I would like to thank Sri. R. Venkatakrishnan and his wife Srimathi V. Saraswathi for their excellent DTP work.
