ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I convey my heartful gratitude to Dr. P. M. Vasave for his valuable guidance, constant encouragement and valuable suggestions, without which the present study would not have come to its present shape. I have no words indeed to express my deep sense of gratitude to him for his encouragement.

I am equally grateful to Prof. Sudhir D. Sharma, Director of the Institute of Social work and Research, C.S.R.D., Ahmednagar for providing all the required academic facilities in accomplishing my Research work.

I express my sincere thanks to all those interviewee who have been interviewed during my field work ie. Kokana household respondents, Kokana matriculating student respondents and teacher respondents. I am also thankful to Shri. Shahanu Thakare, Rajaram Mahale, Rajendra Gaikwad and Pandurang Bahiram for their help in collecting the data.

I am thankful to all my friends and well wishers Prof. D. C. Kirtiraj. Prof. S. I. Kumbhar, Dr. John Gaikwad, Dr. Satish Sirsath. Prof. Dhananjay Lokhande and Prof. P. S. Patil for their help.
I am thankful to Librarians of Indian Institute of Education, Pune, YASHADA, Pune, Tribal Research and Training Institute, Pune, University of Pune and Bharati Vidyapeeth’s Social Science Centre, Pune for giving me access of their Libraries for the references of this study.

I am thankful to my child daughter Vinaya, who gave her playing hours free to me for early completion of the work.

In the last this study cannot be completed without mentioning the name of my honourable Director Dr. K.G. Pathan; without his encouragement this study would have not been possible.

I am thankful to Shri. Rajan for typing the present work neatly and timely.

In the end, I dedicate this small piece of work with sincere regards to my father late Shri. Anaji Deshmukh, who had worked till his last breath for the Kokana people in the tribal villages of Satana taluka. I dedicate this study to his ever lasting memories.
