ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my sincere gratitude to my guide Dr. D. C. Mathangi, Professor of Physiology, CHRI for taking me as her student and showing me the wonderful field of research. The journey with Light induced stress and LED light therapy would not have been possible without her constant support and encouragement. Her dynamic personality and tolerance has inspired me in many ways and has brought out the best from me.

My deepest thankfulness goes to Dr. Ramnath Shyamala, Professor and Head of the Department of Physiology who was supportive and encouraging, which helped me a lot to cross through all the hurdles in my life during the research period.

I am also grateful to Dr. R. Sheela Devi, Head In charge, Postgraduate Institute of Basic Medical sciences, University of Madras, Chennai for being a highly supportive doctoral committee member with her valuable suggestions and positive comments.

I am deeply grateful to our respected Vice Chancellor Professor Dr. V. Raji, Registrar Mr. SPK. Chidambaram and Dean Professor Dr. K. Ravindran for giving me the opportunity to do my research work and for providing the infrastructure to conduct the study successfully.
I wish to thank all my colleagues in the Department of Physiology for the support extended to me during the period of study. My special thanks to Professor Dr. Sanjay Andrew Rajarathnam and Professor Dr. Prince Johnson Samuel. My sincere thanks also goes to all the postgraduates, nonteaching staff, housekeeping staff in the department.

I also would like to place on record my gratitude to Professor Dr. RM. Pitchappan (Director, Research), Professor Dr. R. Murugasen (Director, AHS), Professor Dr. K. Ramesh Rao (HOD, Pathology), Professor Dr. A. Ruckmani (HOD, Pharmacology), Professor Dr. M. Jeya (HOD, Microbiology), Professor Dr. S. Govindaraju (Statistician), Dr. Mathangi.K (AFMC), Mr. Devendra raj (Ph.D scholar) for their valuable critical inputs and guidance.

I also thank Dr. Shobita Devi, Veterinary Medical Officer, Mr. Vijay vel and other staff of the animal house.

In conclusion, I would be failing in my duty without acknowledging my parents, wife, son and all other well wishers without whose steadfast support everything would be meaningless.

Dr. A. Ahamed basha
