Acknowledgements

I am grateful to Dr. Aloka Parasher-Sen, for suggesting this interesting research topic and for inspiring me. Her invaluable guidance and encouragement helped me throughout the course of my study. Without her constant, dynamic and diligent supervision, it is doubtful whether this study could ever have been completed.

Grateful thanks are due to Dr. V.V.Krishna Sastry, formerly Director of State Department of Archaeology and Museums Hyderabad for permitting me to undertake this research work. He was very kind enough to spare his valuable time for discussions on the problems of research in the initial stage of this research.

It gives me immense pleasure to express my gratitude to Sri N.R.V.Prasad, present Director, Archaeology and Museums Hyderabad for kindly permitting me to utilise departmental material and for his continuous encouragement during the course of the present research. I extend my sincere thanks to Sarvasri B.Satyanarayana Singh, Archaeological Engineer, Dr. Mukunda Rao, Chief Epigraphical Officer, Dr. N.S.Ramachandra Murthy, G.Krishnam Raju, M.A.Qualyum, Asst. Directors of Department of Archaeology and Museums, Hyderabad for their valuable suggestions and cooperation. I specially thank Dr. B.Subrahmanyam, Research and Training Officer, who has always been with me and helped me in many ways during the completion of the present work.

I would like to place on record my sincere thanks to various Heads of the Department of History in the University and particularly Prof. S.Nagaraju, Prof. T.R.Sharma, Prof. V.Ramakrishna and Prof. Iswar Prakash Gupta, Department of History who have always supported my work in a very cordial manner and for their unfailing cooperation, help and kindness.

I am no less grateful to Prof. R.S.Sharma, Prof. K.M.Shrimali, Prof. V.K.Thakur, Prof. A.V.Narasimha Murthy, Dr. I.K.Sarma, Prof. K.Krishna Murthy and Dr. P.V.P.Sastry for their valuable suggestions on the work during my association with them at various seminars and conferences. I can't forget my training with traditional gurus, Shilpakalanidhis Sri T.Ramamurthy, Thiru S.K.Achari, S.M.Ganapati & Prof. V.Ganapati who laid the foundations for my understanding the traditional methods of building technology.

I thank my colleagues Sarvasri P.Vengal Reddy, K.Raghunath, N.Mallikarjuna Rao, R.V.Devika Rani, S.Brahmanandam, T.V.Chetty, D.Indumati Devi, K.Padmanabha and V.Yellaiah for their help and cooperation during my research work. I also thank my fellow scholars, Mrs.Y.Tejaswini and Mrs. K.S.Shobha and my friends B. Parvathala Reddy, D.V.S.Prasad who helped me in proof-reading the final versions of the thesis.

My special thanks are due to Mrs.M.Varalakshmi, Gazetted Librarian, Dept. of Archaeology and Museums, Hyderabad and the staff of IGM Library, University of Hyderabad for providing me excellent library facilities. I also express my great regards to M/s. Perfect Dataflow Systems, Chaitanyapuri, Hyderabad for data inputting of the entire thesis and giving it its present form.

My special thanks are due to my family members Mr & Mrs. K.Rama Prasada Reddy, Venkat Reddy, Suneetha, Saritha and Priyamvada for helping me in one way or the other in doing this research work.

An invaluable debt to be placed on record is that to my wife Mrs. E.Rajyalaxmi, for relieving me from household botherations and for her understanding, support and affection.

Finally, I thank all the people, who are directly or indirectly involved in bringing up this piece of work.
