Acknowledgement

I have no words to express how much I thank to those who constantly guided me during my research work in the last five years. The foremost person whom I am greatly indebted is my Supervisor Prof. Yogesh Sharma. He was tireless with suggestions and continually reminded me of my mistakes, which made the work proceed in the right direction. He is invaluable to me. Thank you so much Sir. I also want to thank Sir Pius M. C Malekandathil and Sir Arvind Sinha, who gave all the suggestions and guidance related to my topic in my research work.

My sincere thanks to my family and my villagers, who frequently asked me how long am I going to study as most of my villagers didn’t know the course after MA (Master of Arts) and they are really wondering what I am really studying in these many years. I also thank to my Church elders and Pastor for remembering me in their prayers, which gives me strength and happiness in spite of weakness in my studies.

I am also very indebted to the University Grants Commission (UGC), for giving me Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship, without this financial assistance my research won’t be completed.

I am also very grateful to the Centre for Historical Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, for the constant sympathy and assistance. My sincere gratitude to the staff of JNU, Central Library; Centre for Historical Studies, Library, JNU, New Delhi; National Archive of India, New Delhi; Vidyajyoti Library, Delhi; Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi, for their constant cooperation during the course of my research.

I extend my sincere thanks to Jangkhomang Guite for giving me his guidance and helping me in editing. I also extend my gratitude to my friends Sohiamlung Dangmei, Gideon Shadang, Luikang Lamak, Peimiya Khangrah, Ningreingam Shimray, and Late U. A. Shimray, and many more friends whom I could not remember, please forgive for not mentioning here.

Thank you once again to all of you.

New Delhi: 21st July 2009

Awungshi Shangreiyio