ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“What is important is to keep learning, to enjoy challenge, and to tolerate ambiguity. In the end there are no certain answers.” Above all, I owe my deep sense of gratitude to “Maa Kalika” the omnipotent, omnipresent and omniscient for showing his blessings, mercy, guidance without which this task would have remain a mere dream. All is possible to him that believeth, who a definite goal has backed by the determination to achieve it, no matter what the odds or obstacles.

All prays to Almighty “God” whose mercifulness, benevolence and venerance gifted me the ever carrying father, Indrajeet Singh and Mother Smt. Neelam Singh who always gave my efforts, necessary blessings, reciprocate my sincerity and loyalty, prop my toppling faith and collapsing dreams, extend a selfless smiles, feel my nerve, hold my hand, value my emotions and care my sentiments.

With respect I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to my incomparable advisor Prof. (Dr). V. M. Prasad, Head, Department of Horticulture for his caring disciplined attitude bearing with a stringent note, whole hearted encouragement patient and reiterating check noble guidance, constructive criticism, innovative ideas, valuable suggestions, unending inspiration enduring patience coupled with amicable nature and affectionate to overcome from hurdles, always with me in odd situations and clear concept let this odious task to finish that it shall be in my memories forever. He has not only been a fathomless ocean of knowledge and wisdom to me but most of all, her words of care and hands of blessing has been my pillars of strength and courage to complete this work on time. My fortune may not give anything more but has given me the opportunity to work under this great teacher and human being. Indeed words are not sufficient for her appraisal. Thank you Sir.
With profound sense of gratitude, I place on my sincere thanks to the Chairman of my advisory committee for his constructing comments and support.

I express my esteemed gratitude to the member and member of my advisory committee Prof. (Dr.) Wilson Kispotta Director Extension, Department of Agricultural Economics, SHIATS, Allahabad for his lucid guidance, sympathetic approach, caring touch and constructive suggestions regarding my work.

With all respect I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. T. Thomas, Officiating Head, Department of Soil Science, my member for his constant source of inspiration and helping me out in every possible way with his kind gesture.

I fall short of words to express my gratitude to Dr. S. Saravanan, Associate Professor, Department of Horticulture, Allahabad School of Agriculture, for his worthy guidance, Suggestions and go ahead blessings extended to me during my dissertation work and always.’

I extend my sincere gratitude and cordial thanks to Dr. Vijay Bahadur Rajwade, Associate Professor, Dr. Devi Singh Assistant Professor, and Dr. Urvi Fatima, Assistant Professor, Department of Horticulture, Sam Higginbottom Institute of Agriculture, Technology & Sciences, Allahabad (U.P), for their appreciable directions, mature and precious advice and their keen interest, which is responsible for the accomplishment of this target.

Academic life without friends is beyond imagination, I am grateful to Almighty God who has blessed me with such wonderful friends who ungrudgingly took pain and spared both time and energy so as to enable me to complete my work with such cases especially Dr. Rajneesh Shrivastva, Dr. Gufran Ahmad, Dr. Ateek Khan, Dr. Kunwar Manvendra Pratap Singh, Dr. Anshuman, Dr. Pratyush Kumar, Dr.
Dhurv Kumar, Jaiburt Singh, Anurag Singh and Shiva all my classmates for their moral support and persistent help during the course of this study.

A plethora of thanks also goes to Chandrika Bhai, Ramu, Suresh Kumar Rajendra, Saroj Aunty, Smt. Seema, Rajendra and Shant Lal for their whole hearted help during field Experimentation as well as laboratory Experimentation.

Last but not the least I thank everyone who is related in any way directly or indirectly with this study for their help and encouragement.

Date:

Place: Allahabad (Chandra Mohan Singh)