ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The endless thanks goes to Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev, is an Indian yogi, mystic and philanthropist for all the blessings he has showered onto me, which has enabled me to write this last note in my research work. During the period of my research, as in the rest of my life, I have been blessed by Sadhguru with some extraordinary people who have spun a web of support around me. Words can never be enough in expressing how grateful I am to those incredible people in my life who made this thesis possible. I would like an attempt to thank them for making my time during my research in the University a period I will treasure.

I would like to express my heartfelt sincere gratitude to my research supervisor Dr. G. Sudhandiran, Assistant Professor, Department of Biochemistry, for his advice during my doctoral research endeavor. As my supervisor, he has constantly forced me to remain focused on achieving my goal. His observations and comments helped me to establish the overall direction of the research and to move forward with investigation in depth. I thank him for providing me with the opportunity to work with a talented team of researchers.

It is with sincere gratitude that I wish to thank the members of my Doctoral Committee Dr. S. Niranjali Devaraj, Professor, Department of Biochemistry, University of Madras and Dr. Satyanarayan Sethi, Senior Scientist, CIBA for reviewing my work and for giving me positive feedback.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. H. Devaraj, Vice Chairman, UGC, Dr. M. Parthiban, Former Principal, Pachaiyappa’s College for men, Kanchipuram, Dr. R. Thilagaraj, Former Professor and Head, Department of Criminology and Dr. Michael Aruldhas, former Professor and Head, Department of Endocrinology, University of Madras for moral support rendered to me for the successful completion of my research career.
It is my pleasant duty to convey my sincere gratitude to Dr. T. Devaki, Professor and Head, Dr. Elangovan Vellaichamy, Associate Professor, Dr. S. Subramaniam, Assistant Professor, A. J. Vanisree, Assistant Professor, Department of Biochemistry, University of Madras for support rendered during the course of my investigation.

I owe my heartiest gratitude to Dr. N. Rajendiran, Assistant Professor, Department of Polymer science for his generous collaboration and helps during the course of this work.

My sincere and honest thanks to Dr. G. Thulasi, Director, SRM University, Prof. Santhanam, Pachaiyappa’s College, Chennai, Dr. A. Palanisammi, Professor and Head, K. G. Tirumurgaan, Associate professor, Dr. K. Vijayarani, Professor, Dr. K. Kumanan, Professor, Department of Animal Biotechnology, Madras Veterinary College for their support in my research career.

During my PhD, I have also had the wonderful opportunity to discuss ideas and concepts with other faculty members apart from my guide. I would like to thank Dr. Suvro Chatterjee of AU-KBC, Anna University and Dr. T. M. A. Senthil Kumar, Professor, Madras Veterinary College.

I would like to appreciate all the researchers whose works I have used, initially in understanding my field of research and later for updates. I am grateful to many people who have taught me starting with my school teachers and my graduate teachers.

My Special thanks to Dr. S. Chandirasekar, T. Muthukumarasamyvel and M. Annadhasan for their Support and Cooperation during my research work. I would like to express my love and regards to E. MahendiraVarman and Ashok for providing all support and care in my research. I would be doing injustice to myself if I forget to convey my gratitude to my labmates R. Santhana Sabapathy, K. Arigeshavan, S. Vasudevan, S. Kunchari Kalaimathi, Divya Thomas, B. Velavan, V. Dinesh Babu, P. Chermakani and Santhosh. My Special thanks to Raghavan, Jeeva and other friends in Department of Chemistry, Anna University.

I would also like to thank all my friends for the great time I have always had with them. Apart from the fun, some of my friends have also been a great source of learning and inspiration. Thanks a lot to one and all and special thanks to P. Rangadurai, C. Kartick, P. Poornima and R. Vincent. And also my Special thanks to Mr. R. Manivasagan and Mrs. M. Usha for their help in possible way. There are, of course, many others whom I would like to mention, but the list is too long and the space is too short.

I wish to thank Department of Nanoscience and Nanotechnology (NCNSNT), University of Madras, to record XPS, FESEM and HRTEM characterization studies and National Centre for Ultrafast Processes for Life time measurements.

To be able to work efficiently, a human being also requires physical and mental health. My heartfelt thanks to Isha foundation for teaching me yogic practice for being such great sources of yogic knowledge.

Words cannot express my deep sense of gratitude toward My Parents for their love, tolerance, concern coupled with the relentless, persevering and untiring support granted to me in every stage of my research career and of course without whom this could not be possible.

I acknowledge the UGC for providing UGC-BSR fellowship to pursue doctoral studies.

Many more people have touched my life in many wonderful ways. I would like to convey my sincere appreciation and heart-felt gratitude to one and all.
